Memphis Theological Seminary

Grounded in tradition...Open to the Spirit

In 1852 the Cumberland Presbyterian Church (CPC) established a School of Theology at Cumberland University in Lebanon, Tennessee. In the same year, Bethel College, sponsored by West Tennessee Synod of the CPC, began a department of theology at McLemoresville, Tennessee. Memphis Theological Seminary (MTS) is the successor of those two early efforts to provide theological education for the CPC. Today, MTS serves students from nearly thirty denominations as they prepare for pastoral, educational, institutional, and lay ministries. Our campus includes Founders Hall, a restored beaux arts mansion on the National Register of Historic Places. Our faculty is distinguished by their commitment to relating academic excellence to real life ministry in the world.

If you are considering graduate theological education, please plan to visit Memphis Theological Seminary to see if we can help you follow and prepare for your calling to ministry.

This catalogue is dedicated to the memory of Dr. Hubert W. Morrow (1922-2008), former Professor Emeritus of Missions and Historical Theology and Emeritus Academic Dean of Memphis Theological Seminary. Dr. Morrow was one of the leading theologians of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in the latter half of the twentieth century.

Born and reared in rural Arkansas, Hubert Morrow was a life-long Cumberland Presbyterian. He was a graduate of Bethel College (B.A.) and Vanderbilt University (B.D., M.A., and Ph.D.). In addition to serving as a pastor of Cumberland Presbyterian Churches in Calico Rock, Arkansas, Goodlettsville, Tennessee, and Evansville, Indiana, Dr. Morrow served as Executive Secretary of the board of Missions and Evangelism 1950-54. His academic appointments were at Bethel College where he served as Professor of Religion and Philosophy 1957-74, and at Memphis Theological Seminary 1980-88.

Dr. Morrow retired in 1988 and returned to his native Arkansas where he served as a faithful presbyter, engaged in several significant writing projects, and continued to teach each summer in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church’s Program of Alternate Studies, whose curriculum he had helped to create.

In addition to his influential teaching career, Dr. Morrow played a significant role in the writing of the 1984 Confession of Faith of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. In 1996, his commentary on the Confession was published, The Covenant of Grace: A Thread Through Scripture. He was elected Moderator of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in 1956 and was at the time of his death the oldest living moderator.

With his wife Virginia Sue, an accomplished church musician and adjunct instructor in hymnody at MTS, Dr. Morrow had two children, David (an ordained minister) and Mary Sue (a music professor). Virginia Sue preceded him in death in 1989.

The Memphis Theological Seminary community gives thanks to God for the life and work of Dr. Hubert Morrow, for the lives he shaped by his teaching and for his visionary leadership of the academic program of the seminary. To God be the glory.
Rev. Randy Leslie

Randy Leslie was more than a graduate of MTS, having earned a Master of Divinity in 1998. Randy was more than an employee of MTS, having worked in many capacities, finally as Director of Technology and Facilities from 1995-2006. Randy was also a devoted friend and pastor to all who worked and studied at MTS during his time with us.

On Palm Sunday 2009, Randy was stricken down much too young, leaving his beloved wife Cheryl and cherished adult children, Joshua and Elizabeth, to mourn his passing.

We give thanks to God for the gift of Randy Leslie - his wonderful sense of humor, his generous spirit, his care for the poor and all who are outcast in any way. MTS is richer for his having been a part of our life together.

Mrs. Evelyn Buck

On October 24, 2008, MTS lost a devoted friend and supporter with the death of Evelyn Looper Buck, wife of Dr. Clinton Buck, Professor Emeritus of Christian Education of MTS.

Before her health failed, Mrs. Buck was often seen at MTS functions, with her gracious smile and manner. The MTS community gives thanks to God for Evelyn’s life of service to her family, to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and to the cause of Christ in the world.

Mrs. Buck was an accomplished business woman, a seamstress, avid knitter, and proud mother of Philip and Phylis.
MISSION STATEMENT

Memphis Theological Seminary, an ecumenical Protestant seminary serving from the Mid-South region, is committed to providing theological education for church leaders throughout the world. The seminary is an institution of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. As a Christian seminary, we seek to cultivate a love for scholarship, piety and justice. Intentionally, we foster ecumenical cooperation, support the full ministry of women and men of all races and cultures, and provide resources for the church’s life and witness.

HISTORY

Throughout its history, the Cumberland Presbyterian Church has supported theological education. As early as 1821, one of its founders, the Rev. Finis Ewing, established a school in his home at New Lebanon, Cooper County, Missouri, for candidates for the ministry in McGee Presbytery. This is believed to have been the first theological school west of the Mississippi River. In the early 1820s, the Rev. David McLin established a similar school for candidates for the ministry in Illinois.

In 1852, the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church established a Theological School at Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tennessee. The same year a Theological Department was established at Bethel College, a Cumberland Presbyterian college in the western part of the state. Both schools survived the disruption of the Civil War, and assets from both schools were combined following the partial reunion of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) in 1906. In July 1908, the Theological Seminary was reorganized on the campus of Bethel College with Rev. P.F. Johnson elected as Dean.

In 1922, the three boards concerned with the educational interest of the Church, the Board of Education, the Board of Trustees of Bethel College, and the Board of Trustees of the Theological Seminary, were merged into one board known as the Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Education. From 1923 until 1956, the seminary was a department of Bethel College. In 1956, the General Assembly incorporated the Cumberland Presbyterian Theological Seminary as a separate institution and placed it once again under its own Board of Trustees.

In 1962, the General Assembly approved a recommendation of the Board of Trustees to relocate the seminary to Memphis, Tennessee. In 1964, the Assembly changed the name of the seminary to Memphis Theological Seminary of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The seminary opened its doors in Memphis in September 1964, admitting students of any race and denomination. Over more than 45 years, the seminary has experienced remarkable growth in enrollment, size of faculty and staff, facilities, library holdings, and financial resources. Memphis Theological Seminary is gaining an increasingly-wide recognition of its program of theological education with its practical focus and convenient delivery.

LOCATION

The campus of seven acres is located in the heart of Memphis, Tennessee, at the corner of East Parkway and Union Avenue, in the area known as Midtown. On the banks of the Mississippi River, Memphis is by 2008 estimates the nineteenth largest city in the United States, the hub of a major metropolitan area of 1.3 million people. Memphis occupies the geographic and economic center of the Mid-South region. Home to FedEx, its central location lends it one of its nicknames: America’s Distribution Center. Memphis International Airport handles more air cargo annually than any other airport in the world. Other major corporations with headquarters in Memphis include International Paper, AutoZone and ServiceMaster.

From W.C. Handy to Elvis to Jerry Lee Lewis to Isaac Hayes - from blues to rock ‘n’ roll to gospel to rap - Memphis is a city full of rich musical heritage. The Stax Museum of American Soul, Graceland and Sun Studios continue to attract tourists from around the world. Memphis Theological Seminary is committed to exploring the connections between Christian Faith and the rich musical heritage of the Mid-South.

Accreditation

Memphis Theological Seminary is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada (ATS), and by the Commission on Colleges and Schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) to award the Master of Divinity, Master of Arts (Religion), and Doctor of Ministry degrees. The seminary is also an approved seminary by the University Senate of the United Methodist Church.

Financial Support

Memphis Theological Seminary receives financial support from many sources including the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, its sponsoring denomination, which gives an annual allocation from denominational benevolences and income from endowments. Substantial support is also given by the larger Memphis community, other denominations that have a significant number of students in the seminary, various church groups, and individuals and groups interested in theological education. Added to these resources is the income from tuition and fees.

The seminary also benefits from early endowment funds established prior to the relocation of the seminary to Memphis, Tennessee, in 1964. Records on the current endowment funds generally start with the presidency of Dr. William T. Ingram, Jr., who helped acquire a number of gifts for these purposes. Dr. E. Colvin Baird became President of the seminary in 1978 and secured a number of major contributions for the seminary. In 1984, Dr. J. David Hester became president of MTS, and the seminary’s endowment fund continued to grow significantly. The Board of Stewardship of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church invests endowment funds for Memphis Theological Seminary. Interest earned from these funds is directed for use by the seminary in accordance with the Endowment Fund instrument that is negotiated when an endowment fund is established. The principal of the endowment fund is always reinvested.

Governance

Memphis Theological Seminary is governed by a twenty-four member Board of Trustees elected by the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. This board holds title to property, collects and dispenses funds, elects administrative officers and faculty, and sets the policies governing the seminary.

The administration and faculty are charged by the Board with the responsibility of carrying out approved policies, recommending changes in policies, and leading the seminary in the task of theological education.

Students share in the government of the seminary through a Student Senate and through membership on committees. Alumni/ae and friends of the seminary have many opportunities to participate in the life of the community, serve on special committees and share ideas and suggestions concerning the programs of the seminary.

Ecumenical Relations

The Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the sponsoring denomination of Memphis Theological Seminary, is ecumenical in its outlook and practices. On the local, state, national and international levels, Cumberland Presbyterian ministers, congregations and judicatories participate in a variety of cooperative endeavors with other Christian churches. This ecumenical outlook and practice is reflected at Memphis Theological Seminary. Persons from over thirty denominations are found among the students, faculty and staff. Cooperative working relationships exist between the seminary and judicatories of several denominations. The richness of its ecumenical character is one of the seminary’s strengths.

A. Community Life
Persons with various backgrounds, cultures and denominational traditions constitute the seminary community. The community values ecumenical cooperation in theological education, welcomes varied theological understandings and practices of the Christian faith, and affirms the contributions of all members of the community. While the community is residentially dispersed, its members are united by the common purpose of theological education carried out in the context of concern for the Christian church and its differing ministries. Though diverse in race, gender, tradition, and theological understanding, the common bond of love in Jesus Christ binds the community together.

The Seminary community carries out its life together in various ways. When class is in session, worship draws the community together every week for praise of God and celebration of Holy Communion. Classes meet on weekdays and nights to stimulate theological understanding and deepen members of the community in preparation for Christian ministry. Fellowship occurs around the coffee-pot in the Great Hall, in the student center, and at various dinners and social events throughout the year. Annual lectureships bring leading scholars to the Seminary to affirm and challenge our Christian vision and witness. Student groups are organized to increase leadership and identity within the community, including Women in Ministry, the Student Senate, and various denominational groups. In these ways, MTS seeks to invite all participants to experience an inclusive and reconciling community.

B. Appalachian Ministries Educational Resource Center (AMERC)
Memphis Theological Seminary is a founding member of the AMERC Consortium. AMERC provides specialized training for students preparing for ministry in the Appalachian Church and other mission settings, with particular attention to small town and rural congregations. Through its two educational programs - two-week summer courses and three-week winter travel seminars - AMERC provides students with opportunities to learn about the Appalachian region, its people and history, its culture and religion, and its needs and issues for ministry. Students study models for ministry currently in use and those expected to be more effective in the future. During the summer course, in addition to the concentrated academic program, students are assigned to field placement sites as participant-observers. In the winter travel seminar, the classes visit various types of Appalachian ministries alternating between the northern, southern, and central portions of Appalachia (which covers parts of 13 states and 397 counties). Please contact the VPAA/Dean or Registrar for specific details about receiving credit and scholarship assistance.

C. Cooperative Agreement with the University of Memphis Department of Communication
Fall 2006 marked the beginning of a cooperative agreement with the Department of Communication at the University of Memphis to team-teach selected courses, to cross list selected faculty, and to allow students from both institutions to take elective courses in rhetoric and African American preaching. One or two members of each faculty will be appointed as adjunct or affiliate in the other institution. Affiliate faculty from MTS who qualify are permitted to sit on Ph.D. committees and direct theses and dissertations in the University of Memphis department of Communications.

ADMISSIONS INFORMATION
Memphis Theological Seminary is a professional school that offers the following degree programs: Master of Divinity, Master of Arts (Religion), and Doctor of Ministry.

The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) degree is regarded by most denominations as the standard route of educational preparation for ordination to the ministry.

The Master of Arts (Religion) (M.A.R.) degree is designed primarily for lay persons who want to participate in the work of the church while pursuing a secular career, or for church staff workers or others who seek additional study in the theological disciplines.

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) degree is regarded as the highest degree in the practice of ministry and designed for full-time ministers who have an M.Div. degree from an accredited seminary and who desire a higher level of competence in the practice of ministry.

Pre-Seminary Study
It is recommended that students’ pre-seminary education include the following studies. The number in parenthesis after the subject matter area indicates the semesters of work recommended: English (6), history (3), philosophy (3), natural sciences (2), religion (3), foreign languages (4) and social sciences (6).

Of the possible areas of concentration in undergraduate study, English, philosophy, and history are regarded as most desirable. Other areas that may be considered are sociology and psychology.

In the event that a transcript of undergraduate study shows marked divergences from the guidelines recommended above, or if other academic deficiencies are indicated, the student may be admitted on probation provided some program is projected to remove the deficiencies. In that case, final approval of admission would be contingent upon the removal of the deficiencies.

Admission Requirements (master’s level program)

A. Degree Seeking
Admission to the M.Div. or M.A.R. program normally will be based on:

1) Graduation with an appropriate bachelor’s degree from a college or university accredited by an agency recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation or holding membership in the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada. Applicants whose bachelor’s degree is from a college not accredited by a recognized national or regional accrediting agency must have one complete academic year of work at an accredited institution before being considered for admission.

2) A minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) for all undergraduate work must be 2.50. Any exceptions will be on the basis of demonstrated equivalency, and will require not less than a full semester of academic probation before the admission is finally approved.

3) Applicant’s demonstrated willingness to participate in seminary life and study in a constructive manner. Admission is without regard to race, creed, ethnic origin, or gender.

B. Non-Degree
Non-degree seeking students are those who are pursuing studies not directed toward graduation and who take a class for credit. Individuals wishing to take classes on a non-degree basis are expected to hold a bachelor’s degree or its equivalent and complete all admission procedures.

Letters of reference and the personal essay are not required of students holding the Master of Divinity degree who are enrolled only in denominational polity and history courses, or of students enrolled at MTS for the purpose of transferring credit to another seminary.

C. Auditors
Auditors are those students who take a course without receiving academic credit for that course. Students who take a course as an auditor may not receive credit for it later unless they retake the course for credit. Admission for auditors is granted for one semester only. A new application is required for each term. Applications for auditors are available from the Director of Admissions or online at www.MemphisSeminary.edu.

Permission of the instructor may be required before a student can audit a course. If the course to be audited has a prerequisite, the auditor must receive the permission of the instructor to be able to take the course. Auditing is permitted only if space is available after new student registration.

D. Continuing Education
Continuing Education at MTS is designed to provide opportunities for the personal enrichment of clergy and laity through classroom sessions, conferences, seminars, special lectures, and participation in workshops. One Continuing Education Unit (CEU) is equal to ten contact hours. Continuing Education programs do not award academic credit.

MTS also offers LifeTime, a program devoted to Christian lifelong learning, which provides stimulating theological study for persons who are searching for deeper understanding of their faith. LifeTime courses are offered several times a year in and beyond the Memphis area. While certificates of completion may be given to participants, no academic credit is offered through LifeTime.

Admissions Procedures
Deadlines for application to the M.Div. and the M.A.R. programs of Memphis Theological Seminary are: August 10 for the fall semester; January 10 for the spring semester; and May 10 for the summer term. Each applicant for a degree program shall be required to furnish the Director of Admissions of the seminary with:

1) an application for admission on a form provided by the seminary;
2) official transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate work;
3) two copies of a personal essay;
4) a Goals of Theological Education form;
5) three Seminary Reference forms;
6) a recent photograph; and,
7) a $35 application fee.

The following qualifications concerning academic competency should be noted carefully: (1) If application materials indicate academic weaknesses, especially in grammar and composition, the applicant may be required to come to the campus for an interview and preliminary reading/writing tests. (2) If significant academic deficiencies are revealed by the interview and the preliminary tests, further testing and remedial work may be required prior to admission.

Admission is by approval of the Admissions Committee. The committee meets periodically throughout the year. Before an application will be considered, the application materials listed above must be on file with the Director of Admissions.

A. International Student Admission Procedures
In addition to the procedures and documents outlined above, an international student must furnish the Director of Admissions of the seminary with: 1) a letter of approval from an appropriate official of the student’s denomination or church; 2) a statement of plans for service or ministry in the country of origin; 3) certification of proficiency in the English language through the submission of a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score (minimum 550 on the written test, 213 on the computer test, or 85 on the Internet test), and a Test of Written English (TWE) score (minimum of 4.5); 4) evidence of financial resources for educational and living expenses for the period of study planned; 5) proof of adequate funds for travel to and from the U.S.; 6) proof of health insurance with a U.S. insurer. The TOEFL code number for MTS is 1462.
B. Readmission
A student who has been out of school for one semester or more for any reason must apply for readmission. Application must be in writing and sent to the Director of Admissions. Applications for former students can be obtained from Admissions or online at www.MemphisSeminary.edu.

Students whose credits were earned at Memphis Theological Seminary prior to 1990 will be subject to re-evaluation of all previously granted credits before readmission. A student under academic suspension, or who has been counseled or required to leave school for other reasons, must apply in writing to the VPA/Dean. Readmission under these circumstances must be approved by the Admissions Committee.

C. Transfer Students
The number of credits transferred cannot exceed 42 semester hours toward the degree of Master of Divinity or 21 semester hours toward the degree of Master of Arts (Religion). No transfer credits may be applied toward the Doctor of Ministry degree. Courses with a letter grade of C or better are considered for transfer credit and will not be calculated in a student's grade point average at Memphis Theological Seminary. Transfer credit will only be given for courses completed at institutions that are accredited by the Association of Theological Schools or by the appropriate regional accrediting agency.

Students with similar undergraduate coursework required in master’s level programs may substitute advanced courses in the same field subject to approval of the VPA/Dean in consultation with appropriate professors. When such a substitution is made, students must still complete the same number of hours in the corresponding field.

D. Second Degree
Each degree program has a specific intent. During the course of a degree program a student might determine that a change in program will better comply with career goals or a call in ministry. This change can take place prior to degree completion with permission of the VPA/Dean. In the event that a second degree is sought, completed course work cannot be credited toward more than one degree, with the exception of 18 hours of 10000 or 20000 level courses transferred between those programs.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Goals of Theological Education
The following goals of theological education that support MTS’ mission were established by the faculty. Each goal performs distinct roles in the curricular design of degree programs at Memphis Theological Seminary.

Scholarship
- To gain an enhanced body of knowledge and skills for theological research.
- To increase abilities to reflect theologically on the practice of ministry.
- To develop competent leaders who provide resources for the church’s life and witness.

Piety
- To promote the knowledge and love of God.
- To increase awareness of Christian spirituality and the need for a balanced life.
- To cultivate a desire for the healing of the world.

Justice
- To expand ecumenical cooperation, awareness and experience.
- To support the ministries of persons of all genders, races, and cultures.
- To increase a sense of interdependence in relation to human need.
Master of Divinity Program

The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) at Memphis Theological Seminary is normally a three-year program of study. A certain concentration in a field may be achieved by selecting a number of courses in that particular discipline. Its curriculum acquaints students with the theological disciplines and encourages communal exploration in the life of the church so that graduates will serve the church as leaders in greater faithfulness to God.

The M.Div. degree curriculum objectives seek to accomplish the following:
1) Provide instruction in those theological disciplines that equip students for Christian ministry;
2) Encourage personal and communal critical reflection on the ways in which Christian faith is expressed in the ministries of Christian churches;
3) Develop skills that enhance the students’ abilities to express their Christian vocations; and
4) Nurture Christian faith so that spirituality and learning are mutually supported.

A. Master of Divinity Degree Requirements

Note: 6 of the first 9 hours taken must be 10000 courses; 9 of the first 18 hours taken must be 10000 courses; 15 of the first 35 hours taken must be 10000 courses; and 20000 courses may be taken concurrently with 10000 courses. Formation for Ministry classes must be taken the 1st, 2nd and last semesters while at MTS.

Cross Cultural Studies designates those courses that expose the student to the perspectives of diverse communities and aspects of cultures beyond or different from the student’s own cultural, ethnic, social or ecclesial context. For this reason, students must select courses that differ from their own context to meet the requirement for cross-cultural studies. Courses that might satisfy this requirement include, but are not limited to, courses in African American Studies (AA), Context and Mission (CM), and cross-cultural immersion experiences such as AMERC. Courses counting toward fulfilling this requirement must be approved by the student’s advisor or the VPAA/Dean.

Additional Graduation Requirements: M.Div. students are required to earn 18 Theological Colloquia credits, complete Stage II of Profiles of Ministry and earn no less than a 2.00 cumulative grade point average.

Theological Colloquia - The colloquia are intended to provide theological learning opportunities beyond the classroom through dialogue and exposure to scholarship, preaching, teaching, and the life work of scholars, practitioners, and leaders who exemplify the mission goals of MTS: piety, scholarship, justice and health. A listing of “approved” events that will fulfill this requirement will be published in the MTS This Week publication, on the electronic website bulletin board and postings on campus. Traditionally, these approved events have consisted of MTS sponsored lecture series; however, students may obtain approval to attend a limited number of events not sponsored by MTS to earn colloquia credits.

It is expected that all Theological Colloquia credit will be earned by students attending the approved events, however, if the students are unable to attend the colloquia events in person, they may earn up to 50% of the colloquia credits by viewing video tapes of the “missed” lectures. All lecture series tapes are available in the MTS library. Students may submit a one-page synopsis for each lecture missed to the Registrar’s Office no later than one calendar month after the first date of the lecture series “missed”. All written documents are required to be written in compliance with the current version of the MLA Handbook.

B. Ordination Requirements
Many denominations require a course on polity, history or doctrine specific to their denomination. The Director of Academic Records and Registration can assist students in obtaining information about such courses that might be necessary for ordination, but which are not regularly offered as part of our curriculum. When necessary, special offerings of courses required for ordination might also be possible. Students seeking ordination from other denomination affiliations not listed below should consult their denominational officials to ascertain current requirements and procedures.

Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
CH 03735 Disciples of Christ Polity, History and Doctrine 3 credit hours

Cumberland Presbyterian
CH 03834 Cumberland Presbyterian History and Doctrine 3 credit hours
PM 03111 Cumberland Presbyterian Polity and Program 3 credit hours

Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.)
Candidates from any PCUSA presbytery must successfully complete Greek, Hebrew, and exegesis courses in both Old and New Testaments. It is recommended that all PCUSA students consult with their presbytery’s Committee on Preparation for Ministry. The Presbytery of the Mid-South requires candidates for ordination to complete successfully courses in Reformed Theology and PCUSA polity.

Master of Arts (Religion) Program

The Master of Arts (Religion) (M.A.R.) at Memphis Theological Seminary is designed for lay persons who want to broaden and deepen their theological understandings as a basis for their ministries in the church and the world, for candidates for the order of deacon in the United Methodist Church, and for persons wishing to prepare for further graduate work in religion. The curriculum equips students with basic theological disciplines and cultivates an appreciation of scholarship, piety and justice.

The M.A.R. degree curriculum seeks to accomplish the following:

1) Provide instruction in knowledge and skills that lay a foundation for theological reflection on the practice of ministry.
2) Create opportunities for personal and critical reflection on religion within a communal setting.
3) Promote an increase in the knowledge and love of God and neighbor.
4) Offer opportunities for ecumenical and cross-cultural dialogue.

The M.A.R. degree program offers three tracks: Lay Professional, Deacon Candidacy in the United Methodist Church, and Academic Studies.

+ M.A.R. Integrative Seminar Lay Professional and Deacon Tracks: The goal of the seminar is to integrate academic study, theological reflection and praxis. Accordingly, students will design, implement and reflect upon a practicum experience which shall consist of a supervised experiential, ecclesial or community based placement, to be completed by the end of the following semester. The seminar must be taken upon successful completion of all introductory coursework. It may be taken in the next to the last semester of the student’s program (or after the completion of at least 24 semester hours), and will be graded by the seminar leader in consultation with the appropriate faculty member.

Additional Graduation Requirements:
M.A.R. students are also required to earn 12 Theological Colloquia credits (see page 17, Theological Colloquia) and earn no less than a 2.00 cumulative grade point average.

+ M.A.R. Integrative Seminar - Academic Track: The goal of the seminar is the design, research and proposal for a thesis. The seminar must be taken upon successful completion of all introductory coursework. It may be taken in the next to the last semester of study (or after the completion of at least 24 semester hours), and will be graded by the seminar leader in consultation with the appropriate faculty member.

M.A.R. Thesis
Students on the Academic Studies Track (or those on the Deacon Candidacy Track who choose the thesis option) will be expected to write a thesis that demonstrates outstanding knowledge and investigation in the student’s area of research. The thesis shall be between 50 and 75 pages, plus bibliography, and written in compliance with the current version of the MLA Handbook. There will be an oral defense. The thesis will be taken for 3 credit hours.

The VPAA/Dean will assign thesis advisors based on recommendations of the seminar professor and in consultation with the student and faculty. Readers will be approved by the VPAA/Dean in consultation with the student and faculty members. No faculty member may supervise more than one M.A.R. thesis per academic year.

The final draft of the thesis will be submitted to the reader no later than 45 days prior to the end of the semester. Upon receipt of the final draft, the date of the oral defense will be scheduled. Two corrected copies of the thesis will be submitted to the MTS library for binding no later than one week prior to graduation.

Students may change tracks prior to the final submission of the thesis. Thereafter, changes must be approved by the VPAA/Dean.
Doctor of Ministry Program

A. Purpose and Objectives of the Program

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) degree is a terminal degree in the practice of ministry. It is offered to persons who are engaged in ministry and who wish to develop excellence in the practice of ministry. While this is not a research degree preparing candidates for academic careers, its purpose is to help candidates become excellent practitioners of ministry.

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) degree arises out of the purpose and mission of Memphis Theological Seminary. This educational community shares in the mission of the Church in the world by contributing to the formation of persons for service in the Church. Within the body of Christ, some are called to be formed as pastoral ministers to serve and guide the Church in its formation as the people of God, to order the Church for ministry to the world, and to prepare God’s people for works of service.

Formation for pastoral ministry is not merely personal development, but a process of formation in and with a community of believers. Because formation for ministry is a process, the Doctor of Ministry degree is in continuity and coherence with the basic M.Div. degree and with experience in the practice of ministry. Also because formation is a process, the Doctor of Ministry degree is designed to continue the formation of pastors in order to amplify at a doctoral level their theological skills, analytical and integrative proficiency, spirituality, knowledge and competence for ministry.

In light of the Seminary’s commitment to formation of persons for service and leadership in ministry, the image that shapes the Doctor of Ministry degree at Memphis Theological Seminary is servant leadership. This image derives from the biblical concept of diakonia. A pastoral minister is one who serves in and with a community of believers and one who leads a community of believers in service. In and with a community, a servant/leader nurtures faith, identifies the context, scope, and shape of ministry in the world, and enables the development of skills and commitment for ministry.

The objectives for participants in the Doctor of Ministry program are:

1) to help persons grow in the ability to think and reflect theologically and to integrate ministry in relation to biblical, theological historical, and pastoral disciplines;
2) to increase competence to empower a congregation or constituency for ministry through theological reflection and through integration of ministry in relation to biblical, theological, historical and pastoral disciplines;
3) to deepen spirituality and discipleship in Christ and to increase understanding and development of the interdependence between the minister’s spirituality and the spirituality of a congregation or constituency;
4) to increase the ability to refine and articulate, through the practice of ministry, a model of ministry that brings theory under the judgment of theological reflection and practice and practice under the judgment of the theory of ministry;
5) to increase analytical skills necessary for determining the need, context, scope, shape, and practice of ministry in and with a congregation or constituency;
6) to grow in the gifts and skills of ministry and in the manifestation of those personal qualities essential to a higher level of ministerial competence; and
7) to contribute to the body of knowledge relating to the practice of ministry for the servant/leader as well as others.

The Doctor of Ministry degree requires at least three years of study after admission and must be completed within six years.
B. Admission
The regular deadline for application for admission is October 1. Applications completed by October 1 will be reviewed by October 30. The early admission deadline is July 31. Applications completed by the early admission deadline will be reviewed by August 31. Requirements for admission:

1) participation in full-time practice of ministry for a minimum of three years after receiving the M.Div. degree;
2) an M.Div. degree or its equivalent from an accredited seminary with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale; however, if there are strong recommendations and a demonstrated promise of success, a candidate may be accepted whose GPA is not lower than 2.75. Each entering class is limited to no more than 20 percent of participants whose GPA is lower than 3.00;
3) recommendations from at least three persons evaluating the applicant’s qualifications for admission;
4) assessment of the applicant’s theology of ministry and an assessment of her or his practice of ministry by a reflection paper;
5) endorsement by the appropriate supervising body indicating that the applicant is engaged in the full-time practice of ministry and showing the congregation’s or constituency’s support for applicant’s pursuit of the D.Min. degree, such as granting the necessary time for the program and a willingness to be involved as a setting for field study;
6) assessments of the applicant’s ministry by selected constituents among whom the applicant ministers;
7) interviews with the Associate Dean and members of the D.Min. Committee at Memphis Theological Seminary.

The process of admission to the D.Min. degree program at MTS begins with submitting a completed Application for Admission form with the $50.00 application fee. The Application for Admission and other application forms must be completed and the transcripts and all required materials must be received by October 1 prior to the January entering date. The D.Min. Committee approves admission. Persons who skip a seminar or are terminated from the program for any reason must be re-admitted.

C. Enrollment and Registration
The schedule for enrollment and participation in the D.Min. seminars does not correspond to the schedule of the Master’s level courses nor the fiscal/academic year of MTS. When a person is admitted to the degree program, the admissions office automatically registers the students for the first seminar. Course work begins in January and ends in January of the third year (with final details completed as needed in the last few months prior to graduation).

D. Seminars
Students are required to earn 36 hours in the Doctor of Ministry degree program. Five hours are earned in each of five seminars, totaling 25 hours. Students may earn the final eleven hours in the two phases of the Project in Ministry study program.

After admission to the D.Min. degree program is approved, a participant completes five seminars in sequence. Each seminar requires advance preparation, a two-week residency, and a reflection paper. A faculty member prepares a syllabus, a bibliography, assigned readings and other assignments, leads the seminar, and evaluates learning. The student must have a “B” average to be considered for candidacy.

Memphis Theological Seminary offers three tracks or courses of study in the D.Min. program:

* Faith and Health
* Pastoral Ministry
* Theology & Arts

Core Courses in the Leadership in Ministry Track

DM10001 Theological Reflection (5 hrs). This seminar is concerned with the pastor’s ability to reflect or think theologically on the issues that arise in the context of ministry. The ability to engage in theological reflection is fundamental to ministry. Without it, ministry becomes shallow, visionless, and merely functional. Theological reflection enables us to draw insight from our theological resources, to look for and discern the active presence of God in our midst, to become more acute in our theological perception, to invite others to see their life and calling in relation to God, and to challenge the church to be more insightful and faithful. Through theological reflection, we can learn to see our ministry as a vocation lived in the power of the Holy Spirit.

DM10002 Spirituality and Worship (5 hrs). This seminar centers on the role and function of pastor and people as growing disciples. Through this seminar participants will increase their understanding of personal and corporate Spiritual Formation in the context of their own congregations, and further develop personal and corporate disciplines. Through this seminar, participants will explore ways in which personal and corporate spiritual disciplines can influence their ministries and the ministries of those in their congregations. Through this seminar they will increase their understanding of Spiritual Theology and its components of Foundational, Mystical, Moral, and Ascetical theology as viewed from the perspective of Christian tradition. Through this seminar participants will also increase their understanding of and ability to engage in theological reflection. Each participant’s work in the seminar and the reflection paper are the bases for evaluation.

This seminar also focuses on the pastor’s role in congregational worship and as preacher in that worship, especially as that role expresses the pastor’s understanding of servant ministry. It seeks to explore the theological underpinnings of homiletics and liturgics, to evaluate the participant’s own congregational worship and preaching perspectives, and to re-examine resources and necessary skills that enable the pastor to serve responsibly and effectively as preacher and worship leader.

DM10003 Context for Ministry (5 hrs). This seminar enables participants to develop a local strategy of ministry rooted in biblical and theological models of ministry for effective missiological engagement with a variety of cultures. It will train leaders to reflect conceptually on their local, biblical theology of ministry and mission, and to analyze their local context internally and externally.

Participants will develop greater competency in their abilities to: (1) identify and assess the congregation’s tradition and memory through understanding its primary religious language, i.e., its images, metaphors, myths, worldviews, stories, and biographies; (2) create and use research tools in order to identify the congregation’s identity, context, program, and process; (3) identify and assess the cultural and demographic contexts in which a congregation finds itself; (4) reflect theologically upon the congregation’s identity and praxis; and (5) develop a program of ministry out of congregational studies and reflection.

DM10004 Christian Education and Pastoral Care (5 hrs). This two week seminar provides participants with the opportunity to explore how the disciplines and practices of religious education and pastoral care, and the pastor’s role in each of these elements of ministry. The students will be introduced to the most current materials in each area and will create strategies for ministry in each of the areas.

The first week of the residency will focus on Christian Education. Students will explore the congregation as the basis for the ongoing ministry of spiritual formation and Christian education. Students will examine current trends and methodologies by evaluating, designing, and implementing the ministry of Christian spiritual formation in the congregational setting. Specifically, students will develop greater competency to identify and assess the congregation’s identity, context, program, and process; identify the congregations’ cultural and demographic context; and, in light of these, consider ways to increase spiritual formation programming in the congregation.

DM10005 The Care of Souls: An Integrative Seminar (5 hrs). This two week seminar will guide participants as they design a personal trajectory of pastoral theology, building on critical reasoning, personal and social experience, and utilizing learnings from all seminars taken in this track of study. Students will clearly define a theology of general ministry, identify the life and tasks of ordained ministry, and explore the variety of major offices of ordered ministry to improve the practice of ministry and provide an integral view of the pastoral office and its functions.

Core Courses in the Faith and Health Track

DM20001 Healthy Souls, Healthy Bodies (5 hrs). This seminar is a reflective exploration of human embodiment, and the spiritual, mental, and physical issues that maximize opportunities for health. The seminar is designed for participants to assess, evaluate, rediscover and begin to redirect the state of his or her personal overall health of body and soul. Assessment tools, honest reflection, discussions, and assigned readings from texts and scripture will help participants with both the discovery process and a plan for creating positive lifestyle changes. Contributing factors and influences such as culture, family/church practices, heredity, socio-economic status, and individual spiritual disciplines will be explored. As a caring learning community begins to develop, it is expected that participants will hold each other accountable for desired lifestyle changes.

DM20002 Biblical Faith and Human Health; Health as Urban Ministry (5 hrs). This seminar will assist participants in their inquiry into the biblical, biological, and theological foundations for faith and health studies. Further, students will make on-site visits to places in urban America where persons live on the margins and have limited access to good health care. One of the challenges in the Faith and the Health of Communities program is to discover ways to embrace and empower those relegated to the margins of our society, especially in terms of the brokenness of individual and community health; students will have opportunity to explore causes and possible solutions.

DM20003 Building Healthy Communities of Faith (5 hrs). Students will explore how to design, plan and build healthy faith communities, and ways of improving health through alternative approaches. Students will visit the Interfaith Health Program and Church Health Center in Memphis; additionally, students will visit the Carter Center, Centers for Disease Control, CARE, and Emory Global Health Initiative, all in Atlanta, Georgia.

DM20004 Religious Faith and Public Health: Global Perspectives (5 hrs). This seminar enables participants to consider global issues related to the health of individuals and institutions, and to develop greater competency in analyzing, assessing, and adapting ministries in the light of a globalized world. We highlight five key issues: poverty, environmental destruction, economic globalization, multi-faith issues, and the need to nurture a deep spirituality from which ministry and mission flow. This is a required Immersion course.

DM20005 Religious Faith and Public Health: An Integrative Seminar (5 hrs). This seminar will provide a contextual view of faith and health in congregations and public service organizations. It will include a clinical component to this seminar designed to provide advanced pastoral care training and will focus on religious health assets designed to expand the leadership capacities of religious professionals working on the boundaries of faith and public health practices. Leaders of congregations and institutional ministries will be helped to address individual, community, and global health issues with vision steeped in theological realities and practice committed to forming new alliances.

DM30001 Insight - Art as a Lens for Personal and Theological Reflection (5 hrs.). This course assists the learners to reflect theologically on issues which arise in the context of ministry. Where do we see God active in the world? What is God doing in my life/ministry and in my context’s life? Week One’s theme is “Emergence - The Role of the Artist/Theologian.” Week’s Two theme is: “Aesthetics, Method and Practice.” The seminar will seek to create an interface between artistic disciplines, philosophies of liberation and cultural responsibility (ethics). Calling upon resources from the arts, learners will engage in developing their theological reflection skills.

DM30002 Faith - Art and Theology in Classical, Historical, and Postmodern Contexts (5 hrs.). This course seeks to reflect on methods of biblical and art interpretation: the historical method (explores circumstances and events that gave rise to these texts; namely, what occurred and “why”); the literary method (explores biblical texts so as to determine their symbolic narrative worlds, authorial perspectives and determines date and place of origin, intended audience, reason for writing, styles, and themes); and the contemporary method (observes the influence these texts have on the contemporary reader). Particular attention will be given to selected themes and their significance for contemporary artists. Week One: “Classics and Innovation - Art and Faith;” Week Two: “Bible - Faith and Tradition.”

DM30003 Art, Justice and Community Building (Beloved Community: Art in Rural and Urban Contexts (5 hrs.). This course will focus on building what Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. called “the beloved community,” the community of God which is comprised of justice and equality and compassion for all. How might artists assist in building such a community? Week One’s theme: “Art in the Rural Context.” It will be an Immersion to Kentucky, holding conversation with Appalachian Artists, perhaps an interface with AMERC and the Appalachian Travel Group. Week Two’s theme: “Art in the Urban Context (Memphis).”
DM30004 Art and Justice in International Perspective (a required immersion off campus) (5hrs.).
This course will focus on listening to voices from other parts of the globe. It intentionally will seek to listen to those who live on the margins. This seminar seeks to develop a local theology of ministry rooted in a Biblical and theological model of ministry, reflect on this local theology in a global world, and nurture a deep spirituality of ministry and mission.

DM30005 Beyond Performance - Theology and Art in Context (i.e., Health, Prison, Congregation) (5 hrs.).
This seminar focuses on the participant’s context for ministry. Specifically, the seminar will consider the doctrine of the church (ecclesiology) and the acquisition of skills to identify, assess, and build ministry from the context’s tradition and memory, identity, and demographic and cultural contexts. It is a time of personal discernment, with students developing their identity as a researcher about the context’s ministry, analyzing the context of setting for ministry, building relationships with faculty and peers, and developing a learning community.

Project in Ministry
In addition to the five seminars, students will implement a project and write a project report. Growth in the practice of ministry that demonstrates integration of the theory and practice of ministry on a doctoral level is the central objective of the project. An advanced level of formation for ministry that is evident in the candidate’s understanding of ministry and in the candidate’s skill and competency to serve and lead the congregation or constituency in being a community of faith in the world is the basis upon which the project advisor evaluates the candidate.

The Project in Ministry aims to achieve a higher level of ministry for the candidate and the constituency through reflection on and implementation of ministry as indicated in the six objectives of the D.Min. degree. The Project of Ministry gives the candidate the opportunity to concentrate on a specific area of ministry that is related to a particular field of study approved by the D.Min. Committee. The project fulfills all the objectives of the D.Min. degree. Through self-initiated ministry, learning takes place for the candidate and the constituency. The candidate demonstrates the ability to lead in the improvement of ministry, and the candidate and the constituency grow in concepts and practices of ministry.

The Project in Ministry is completed in two stages: DM10006/DM20006/DM30006 Project Development and DM10007/DM20007/DM30007 Written Project Report and Oral Review. A passing grade in DM6 is awarded upon approval of the Complete Project Proposal (which includes a strategy for implementation) by the D.Min. Committee and approval of the manuscript on “reflection on project knowledge and skills” by the faculty advisor. The process for completing DM10007/DM20007/DM30007 is the following: the candidate’s written project report is evaluated by three faculty members and reviewed orally by the candidate before a panel of faculty members.

In each seminar, beginning with DM10001/DM20001/DM30001, a workshop on the project in ministry will be offered.

E. Academic progress throughout the degree program: The grading system for the D.Min. program is the following: Students will earn a letter grade for each seminar (A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, F). The D.Min. Committee will review the grades of all students after each semester. Students who receive a “C” grade or lower will be placed on probation. Two “C’s” in the program means the person is terminated from the program. After the fourth seminar, the student must have a “B” average as one criterion for being voted into candidacy.

F. Course Completion: Written coursework for any of the D.Min. seminars is due to the Professor at a time set by the professor (normally between 45 and 60 days). However, after 90 days, if no paper has been submitted, a student will receive a grade of “F” and will be terminated from the program.

G. Workshops and Consultations with Faculty: Each participant is expected to participate in the project workshops and consultations with the project advisor as scheduled to maintain satisfactory progress in the project in ministry. In extraordinary circumstances, a person may be excused from attending a workshop or consultation with project advisor provided (a) that permission of the Associate Dean is secured in advance and (b) that satisfactory progress is being maintained in developing the project in the context of ministry.

H. Admittance to Candidacy: A student in the Doctor of Ministry program must be admitted to candidacy after successful completion of DM4 and no later than the end of DM5. Requirements for application for admission to candidacy include (a) a complete project proposal approved by the faculty advisor and D.Min. Committee and (b) a “B” average in the first four D.Min. seminars.

I. Time Limits for DM10006/DM20006/DM30006 and DM10007/DM20007/DM30007: In the normal course of events, a student is expected to complete DM6 and DM7 within a two-year period starting at the conclusion of DM5 and ending with graduation in May two years following. Any exceptions to this time limit must be reviewed and approved by the Doctor of Ministry Committee.

J. Termination from Program: When a participant has failed to maintain satisfactory progress in the D.Min. degree, the person is dropped from the degree and notified by the Associate Dean.

K. Readmission to the Program: Any request for readmission to the program from a student who has been terminated from the Doctor of Ministry program for failure to maintain satisfactory progress as stipulated by the program policies must be made to the Doctor of Ministry Committee in writing. The request must be made no later than six months after the student was terminated from the program. The request will be reviewed, and, if deemed appropriate by the Committee, an interview with the student will be scheduled. If readmission is granted, the Committee will establish a time line for completion of the program with the student. No further exceptions will be granted.

L. Graduation Requirements: D.Min. students must have completed all work prescribed within the time limits established by the program or through the Doctor of Ministry Committee. The student must receive a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 in all seminars and for the final project.

M. Student Grievance Procedure: If a student has a personal or academic grievance with anyone involved in the Doctor of Ministry program, the student should first contact that person. If the matter cannot be resolved satisfactorily, the student has the right to submit a formal written complaint to the Doctor of Ministry Committee. A meeting shall be arranged to meet or communicate with each party. A decision shall be rendered by the Committee and shall be considered final.

N. Policy on Late Work: When a participant is unable to complete work on time because of illness, death or illness in the immediate family, or other unavoidable circumstances, the participant may request an extension of time. To request an extension of time, the participant shall submit the request in writing to the Associate Dean prior to the date the assignment is due. The Associate Dean shall forward the request to the professor(s) concerned, who may grant an extension of time not to exceed 60 days beyond the original due date.

If the reasons for late work are other than those described above, the professor(s) concerned may grant an extension of not more than 60 days beyond the original due date for the assignment but shall appropriately penalize the tardy work. Any exception to the foregoing procedures must be made by a committee consisting of the professor(s) leading the seminar, the participant’s advisor, the VPAA/Dean, and the Associate Dean as chair. Any work not completed within the extension of time granted shall be awarded a grade of “F” unless (a) permission of the Associate Dean is secured in advance and (b) satisfactory progress is being maintained in developing the project in the context of ministry.
Certificate Program

Faith and Health
The Certificate Program in Faith and Health is available to degree and non-degree seeking students. It is intended to provide further education for clergy, laity, and health care professionals. The curriculum will explore intersections of health and wholeness in congregations, communities, and in the lives of individuals. Students will earn a total of 18 graduate level hours during the Certificate program. This program is offered in collaboration with Methodist Healthcare’s Interfaith Health Program and The Church Health Center. See the Director of Admissions for further information.

Youth Ministry
The Certificate in Youth Ministry is a two-year program. Students will take core seminary coursework in New Testament, Old Testament, Church History, and Christian Beliefs. Each semester students take youth ministry courses that focus on culture, adolescent development, teaching, and theological foundations for youth ministry. Students will earn a total of 30 graduate level hours during the Certificate program. This program is offered in collaboration with The Center for Youth Ministry Training, an ecumenical ministry with offices in Brentwood, Tennessee. See the Director of Admissions for further information.

Sustaining Pastoral Excellence
Sustaining Pastoral Excellence (SPE) is a program that supports pastors for continued excellence in Christian ministry. This program which is a ministry of MTS was started from grant money awarded from Lilly Endowment Inc. Pastors and other clergy covenant with God and each other to meet monthly with a colleague group for the purpose of worship, sharing of stories, relaxation, prayer, biblical reflection, learning and general support of each other personally and vocationally. There is also a program component that gives support and encouragement to clergy spouses and family members. Congregational lay leaders are included in the planning and giving of pastoral support. For more information about SPE visit www.spe.memphisseminary.edu.

The Program of Alternate Studies
The Program of Alternate Studies (PAS) is a non-degree course of study leading to ordination for Cumberland Presbyterian ministerial candidates unable to attend seminary due to extenuating circumstances. Presbyteries decide whom to send to PAS. When PAS students and/or graduates later attend Memphis Theological Seminary, no credits transfer; they are beginning students. However, those who have gone that route testify to being well prepared for the Seminary journey.

In addition, PAS provides Cumberland Presbyterian-related courses necessary for ordination for Seminary graduates coming from other churches into this denomination as well as for current Seminary students attending schools other than Memphis Theological Seminary. In cooperation with the Board of Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, PAS provides an avenue by which cross-cultural ministers (Korean, Hispanic, Sudanese, for example) may obtain their ministerial education while also becoming acquainted with the denomination through interaction with other PAS students as well as with instructors and staff. A few PAS students are lay people not seeking ordination. The highlight of the year is the annual Summer Extension School at Bethel College in McKenzie, Tennessee, in the month of July. PAS offices are housed in Cumberland Hall on the MTS campus. Weekend Extension Schools in various locations around the denomination are conducted by the Director of PAS in the Fall, Winter, and Spring months. Clergy and lay persons from other denominations are always welcome.
ACADEMIC INFORMATION AND SERVICES

Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act

Memphis Theological Seminary complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, commonly referred to as FERPA, or the Buckley Amendment. The Act was enacted to protect the privacy of educational records. Under FERPA, students have the following rights regarding educational records:

1) the right to inspect and review the student’s education records;
2) the right to request the amendment of the student’s education records to ensure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy or other rights;
3) the right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that the Act and the regulations authorize disclosure without consent.
4) the right to file with the U.S. Department of Education a complaint concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the requirements of the Act and the regulations; and
5) the right to obtain a copy of the institution’s student records policy. The procedures to be used by Memphis Theological Seminary for compliance with FERPA are contained in a current catalog. Copies of the policy can be found in the Registrar’s Office. Questions concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be referred to this office.

Directory Information can be given out to any requester at the discretion of the seminary. Directory information is defined by Memphis Theological Seminary as any information that includes: the student’s name, home address, e-mail address, home telephone, photographs, degree programs, dates of attendance, enrollment status, undergraduate and graduate degrees and dates. The Seminary publishes a student directory at the onset of every semester. It primarily contains a student’s name, home address, home telephone number, photo, degree program and e-mail address. Students may withhold directory information from being released outside the seminary community by notifying the Registrar in writing.

Registration

All first-time students to MTS are required to attend New Student Orientation which is scheduled by the Admission’s Office (see the Academic Calendar). During this time, students will register for classes in the upcoming school term.

Registration for returning students will take place at a time scheduled by the Registrar’s Office (see the Academic Calendar). Registration information, procedures, and forms are published and available outside the Registrar’s Office. All students should present their photo identification card at the point of registration. The photo identification card station is located near the Registrar’s Office only during registration periods. Prior to registration, the degree checklist is reviewed and courses are selected during an appointment with the assigned academic advisor. Students may then register by providing the Registrar’s Office with a signed registration form and other materials (e.g. MTS student identification card, completed vehicle registration form, and method of payment form) needed to complete this process.

Course Schedule

The course schedule is published in hard copy and on the website before advising and registration begins for each semester. It includes the following information: course number, course title (prerequisite follows title, when space permits), credit hours, days, time, room/location and instructor’s name. Each course that requires a prerequisite bears an (*) asterisk within the course number area. In cases where the length of the course titles does not permit space for prerequisites, please see reverse side of schedule or the accompanying information sheet. Changes made to the course schedule after publication will be made available on-line through the internet at www.MemphisSeminary.edu.
Academic Advising
Upon admission to the M.Div. and M.A.R. programs, each student is assigned an Academic Advisor. The faculty advisor counsels the student with respect to the planning of the student’s course of study, assists the student with course registration, and serves as a guide for the student in making decisions about academic goals. A student may change his/her advisor by filing a request with the Registrar.

Policy on Adding/Dropping Courses
After officially registering for the Fall or Spring semesters, students can adjust their schedules according to procedures stipulated in the Student Handbook and the academic calendar. A student who wishes to add or drop courses after a semester begins may do so upon acquiring the appropriate forms from the Registrar. After the drop period, a student may withdraw from a course by completing the appropriate form from the Registrar's Office. In this case, a grade of “W” will be recorded on the transcript. (See the Drop/Add Policy regarding the fees associated with this process on page 37.)

The Registrar prescribes specific times during the academic year for a student to add or drop a class. However, during the January and Summer sessions, a student can drop classes thirty (30) days prior to the first day. Students will not be permitted to drop classes on the first day of class or thereafter during any of the January or Summer sessions. In extenuating circumstances, a student may drop one (1) week prior to class after submitting a written request for approval to the VPAA/Dean. Class cancellations are determined by student enrollment. This policy on enrollments during the intensive sessions enhances our ability to host world-renowned scholars who have excelled in varied areas of theological training.

Withdrawal
Students who desire to withdraw from Memphis Theological Seminary must complete the appropriate form from the Registrar’s Office. Although a request should be made in person, permission to withdraw in writing can be granted in special situations. Withdrawal after the deadline must be approved by the VPAA/Dean.

Lectureships
One or more series of special lectures are given in the fall and spring semesters each year and are listed in the Academic Calendar. These lectures are open to the public and are occasions for alumni/ae and friends of the seminary to visit the campus. All lectureships supported through the generosity of the endowments are listed below.

An MTS lecture series focuses upon a theme or issue of importance to the contemporary church. Lecturers and preachers are invited to engage the theme, present their research, and dialogue with the community.

Bowen Lectures
A lectureship was established by the Board of Trustees honoring the Bowen family who lived near Waverly, Tennessee, and who left their farm for the support of Bowen’s Chapel Church and, after it ceased to exist, for the education of Cumberland Presbyterian Ministers. This lectureship provides the opportunity for the seminary faculty to share their research and study. The lectures are given on alternate years. Former Bowen lecturers have included Dr. Virgil H. Todd, Jr., Dr. Joe Ben Irby, Dr. William T. Ingram, Jr., Dr. John E. Gardner, Dr. W.E. Knickerbocker, Dr. Robert L. Brawley, Dr. Clinton O. Buck, Dr. Paul B. Brown, Dr. Ronald Cole-Turner, Dr. V. Steven Parrish, Dr. Paul Dekar, Dr. Mitzi Minor, Dr. Robert S. Wood, and Bro. Jeffrey Gros, FSC.

C.S. Lewis and His Friends Lectures
This lectureship was established in honor of Dr. Waldo E. (Knick) and Sandra H. Knickerbocker. Dr.
Knickerbocker was Professor of Church History for 32 years and served as Academic Dean from 1978 to 1981. During that time Mrs. Knickerbocker was also very involved in the life and ministry of MTS in many ways, including serving as Acting Administrator of the Doctor of Ministry Program and as a consultant to the Doctor of Ministry students. The purpose of this lectureship is to educate students about the life and writings of C.S. Lewis and the lives and writings of the following persons who were influential in the life and writings of C.S. Lewis: Warren Lewis, J.R.R. Tolkien, Charles Williams, Owen Barfield, Dorothy Sayers, Joy Davidman Lewis, and G.K. Chesterton. The inaugural lecture was presented in 2008 and will be held a minimum of every three years.

Dr. Barbara A. Holmes Lectures in African American Studies

With a desire to strengthen the future of the church by helping to prepare theologically educated clergy, Rev. Sam Mickens (M.A.R. ’04, M.Div. ’06) established an endowment to fund the annual lecture series during Black History Month (February), and at his request, the seminary renamed the lectures in honor of Dr. Barbara A. Holmes, Vice-President of Academic Affairs/Dean. Dr. Holmes is the first African American woman to be Dean of Faculty in the 150+ year history of the seminary. In addition to her leadership role as Dean, she is Professor of Ethics and African American studies at MTS, a lawyer, scholar and author of three books. The inaugural lecture of the Barbara A. Holmes Lectures in African-American Studies will be presented in February, 2009.

J.W. Stiles Lectures

A lectureship has been established in memory of the Reverend Dr. J.W. Stiles. In the course of a long and fruitful ministry, Dr. Stiles served as pastor, editor, and seminary professor. These lectures are given every fourth year. Recent Stiles lecturers have included Dr. James Sanders, Dr. Thomas W. Ogletree, Dr. Walter Harrelson, Dr. Frank Rogers, and Dr. Melva Costen.

Johns Lectures

In 1945, an endowment was provided by the bequest of Mrs. S.B. Johns in memory of her husband, the late S.B. Johns, for a series of lectures. The Johns Lectures are given every fourth year. Johns lecturers have included Dr. Shirley Guthrie, Dr. James I. McCord, Dr. James H. Nichols, Dr. Sara Little, Dr. William Barr Oglesby, Jr., Dr. Jay McDaniel, and Dr. Melva Costen.

Virgil H. and Irene R. Todd Lectures

The endowment for this lectureship was established by the Todds to encourage excellence in Old Testament studies and “to promote a deeper understanding and appreciation of the Old Testament....” Dr. Todd was Professor of Old Testament at Memphis Theological Seminary for 32 years, and during most of that time Mrs. Todd was a member of the administrative staff of the seminary. Lecturers have been Dr. Walter Brueggemann, Dr. Renita Weems, Dr. Denise Hopkins, Dr. Clinton McCann, and Dr. Terence Fretheim.

Virgil L. and Della M. Lowrie Lectures

This lectureship was established in honor of the late Rev. Virgil L. Lowrie, who served in the Texas Synod, and his wife, Mrs. Della M. Lowrie, a former Greek teacher in Cumberland College, Leonard, Texas. These lectures are given on alternate years. Lowrie lecturers have included Dr. Saphir P. Athyal, Dr. Johan Christian Beker, Dr. Edward P. Wimberly, Dr. Donald Armentrout, Dr. Barbara Hargrove, Dr. Dick Austin, Dr. James Ellor, Brian Wren, and Dr. Scott Morris.

William T. and Virginia H. Ingram Lectures

This lectureship was established by the Ingams in appreciation for their Christian heritage in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, especially for their parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W.T. Ingram, Sr., and the Rev. and Mrs. J. Will Howell. The lectures are dedicated to the Ingams’ children, Tom and John, their wives and children. Lecturers have included Dr. Herman Norton, Dr. Norman Horner, Dr. Langdon Gilkey, Dr. Rosemary Reuther, Dr. Gerald Anderson, Dr. Hubert W. Morrow, Dr. Samuel Hugh Moffett, Dr. Carl Dudley, Dr. Jürgen Moltmann, Dr. Martin Marty, Mr. Leon Howell,
Library

The mission of the Memphis Theological Seminary library is to enable the preparation of persons for ministry by providing library resources and services appropriate to the seminary degree programs.

The library catalog can be accessed through the MTS Web Home Page or at library.MemphisSeminary.edu. Memphis Theological Seminary Library helps enable the preparation of persons for ministry as well as those currently engaged in ministry by providing access to theological and religious resources. The library staff is committed to providing access to scholarly and practical resources in theology and religion through the acquisitions, organization, management, and preservation of the collections and through supportive reference & instructional services.

Resources

As of August 1, 2008, the MTS Library houses 72,148 books, 15,388 bound periodical volumes, 1,252 microforms, and 1,350 audio/visual items, and numerous MTS Doctor of Ministry projects and Master of Arts (Religion) theses. The library actively subscribes to 382 periodicals. The collection directly supports the curriculum of Memphis Theological Seminary by providing a strong teaching and research collection in all major areas of theological studies and additional holdings in related areas.

The MTS Library holds growing, special collections in the areas of Cumberland Presbyterianism, Martin Luther King, Jr., and C.S. Lewis and the Inklings. Among highlights are photocopies of Martin Luther King Jr.'s manuscripts and correspondences, rare journal issues and pamphlets written or edited by C.S. Lewis, and a comprehensive collection of books about Cumberland Presbyterian history and theology.

The library subscribes to three online database services: OCLC’s First Search, which provides access to numerous databases including the ATLASerials; the Tennessee Electronic Library, which provides access to numerous databases including the Philosophy and Religion Index and Expanded Academic Index; and the Oxford African American Studies Center which provides more than 1,500 full-text articles and Old and New Testament abstracts. Together, these services provide comprehensive bibliographic information for major publications in theology, religion, and related fields. They also supplement the collection with substantial full-text access. The services are password protected and may be accessed from the Library’s “Source and Services” web page.

The library’s catalog is fully automated by a SIRSI-Dynix library management system. Library patrons can search the catalog on the World Wide Web at http://library.memphisseminary.edu/uh-bin/webcat/, or follow a link from the seminary’s webpage.

Facilities and Services

The library consists of four floors. Staff offices, reference and serials materials, as well as reserves and the circulation desk, are on the first floor. The first floor also contains a reading room, the audio-visual collection, rare books, the Martin Luther King, Jr. collection, a photocopier for print materials, microforms and microfilm and microfiche readers/photocopiers. The second floor contains the computer lab, additional staff offices and the beginning of the book collection. The third and fourth floors consist entirely of the book collection.

The library provides a variety of services including reference and inter-library loan. Inter-library loan services are only available to MTS students, staff and faculty. MTS library staff regularly conducts library workshops on various topics and resources.
Local patrons and students from area schools may also use the library during normal operating hours. The library’s operating hours are adjusted periodically to meet the demands of the seminary community. Generally, the library is open longer when classes are in session.

Area Library Resources
Memphis Theological Seminary has reciprocal library usage agreements with several local seminary, college/university and special libraries. Some of these include: Christian Brothers University, Crichton College, Harding University Graduate School of Religion, LeMoyne-Owen College, Memphis College of Art, Mid-America Baptist Theological Seminary, Rhodes College, Temple Israel, the University of Memphis and the University of Tennessee Health Sciences Library. A valid MTS identification care is required to gain circulation privileges at these libraries.

Library Memberships
Memphis Theological Seminary Library and its staff are members of several international, regional and local library organizations. These include: The American Theological Library Association (ATLA), The American Library Association (ALA), The Lyrasis Library Network, SirsiDynix User Group, The Tennessee Theological Library Association (TTLA), TENN-SHARE, and the Memphis Area Library Council (MALC).

Library Policies
Each student must have a seminary-issued identification card in order to check out library material.

Books will normally circulate to MTS students for a four week period and may be renewed for a similar period if the book has not been requested by another borrower. Doctor of Ministry students may check out books for a six-month period, but may not check out more than 30 books at a time. Permission must be granted by the Library Director for a D.Min. student to renew any items, or to request more than 30 books. Non-student users will be limited to three books, with a check-out period of two weeks and one renewal. Prior to the due date, library materials may be renewed through the Internet using assigned PIN numbers, or by phoning the library circulation desk. Reserve materials circulate for the period of time designated by the instructor. Students should pay careful attention to the due date when checking out reserve materials and should cooperate with their classmates in the use of these materials.

Fines will be assessed and collected on all overdue materials. The fine schedule is as follows:
- $0.20 per day for circulating materials
- $1 per day for reserve materials, media and theses

Fines are due and payable when the material is returned. However, fines will not accrue on days the library is closed, and the amount of the fine will not exceed the price of the book or other material. Unpaid fines are added to the student’s account in the Bursar’s office and are subject to the same treatment as other delinquent accounts. Notices are sent for overdue materials. If there is no response to this notice, then the borrower will be invoiced the price of the book, plus a $20 processing fee. This charge will be added to the student’s account in the Bursar’s office and will be subject to the same treatment as other delinquent accounts.

The Memphis Theological Seminary Library is committed to maintaining the confidentiality of its patrons, including patron records. However, the MTS Library obeys all laws and court ordered requests for information from legally authorized governmental authorities. The library may also release unpaid fines and replacement costs to the MTS Business Office and, if the patron is a student, to the Registrar and Records Office.

The computer lab in the MTS Library is a place of free online inquiry. However, by using seminary resources, one implicitly agrees to use them in ways that are legal and respectful of other patrons. A patron who does not respect policies may be asked to leave the library. Multiple offenses may result in loss of library privileges.
Students, faculty, and staff of Memphis Theological Seminary have priority over all non-MTS users for access to lab computers.

Passwords to subscription search services such as OCLC FirstSearch and the Tennessee Electronic Library are for students, faculty, and staff of Memphis Theological Seminary only. These services are purchased based on the seminary's enrollment and paid for by the seminary. Other patrons may request librarian-mediated online searches. This does not apply to the seminary’s online catalog, which is free to any user.

Children must be attended by an adult when in the library. The library staff cannot assume responsibility for unattended children. Children under 12 should not be left unattended in the library while parents are in class.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Formation for Ministry
All degree seeking students are required to take Formation for Ministry classes during their first, second and last semesters. Formation for Ministry involves students in a process of spiritual formation that integrates scholarship, piety, and justice as foundational for the practice of ministry. They bring together students, faculty members, and experienced ministers in discussion groups centered upon covenants of accountability that integrate shared readings, spiritual practices, reflection papers, and engagement in social justice. Meeting times are arranged at the beginning of each semester.

Grading System
The following letter and point grading system is used at Memphis Theological Seminary:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>

Other notations that may appear on a student’s record are:

- AU Audit; no credit is given
- I Coursework is Incomplete
- W Withdrawn after the normal drop period
- P Pass; credit given but receives no point value
- PR Course is still in progress

If a grade of F (Fail) is given in a Pass/Fail course, the F is used in computing the grade point average. Practicum courses are graded on a Pass/Fail scale.

Incomplete
The grade of I (Incomplete) is assigned when a student is unable to complete work on time because of illness, death in the immediate family, or other unavoidable circumstances, he/she may request an extension of time. To make a request, a student should contact the professor. The professor may grant the extension for not more than 30 days beyond the last day of the term in which the course is taken. If the reasons are other than those specified above, the professor may grant the extension for not more than 30 days beyond the last day of the term in which the course is taken, but shall lower the grade by one letter. Any exceptions to these procedures must be made by a committee consisting of the VPAA/Dean, the professor and the student’s advisor. If the course is not completed within the extension of time granted, an automatic grade of F will be assigned.

Withdraw
The grade of W (Withdraw) is assigned for a student who officially drops course or withdraws from the seminary prior to or on the last day to withdraw. The last day to drop a course or withdraw from the seminary is indicated for each semester on the academic calendar. The “W” grade is non-punitive and appears on the student’s transcript.

Inclement Weather
In the event of inclement weather in Memphis and surrounding areas make driving conditions sufficiently hazardous to warrant closing the seminary, information on closings and openings will be given over Memphis television channels 3, 5, and 24; and over radio stations FM100, WMC-AM79, and WREC-AM60.

In some instances severe weather conditions may exist in some area from which students commute, but the overall situation in Memphis may not warrant closing the seminary. In such instances, students should use their best judgment about attending class. Should hazardous conditions develop or worsen during the course of the day, classes for the remainder of the day, including night classes, maybe canceled, in which case information will be communicated as indicated above. Commuter students must make their own judgments concerning the road conditions and driving safety.

Exceptions to the Rules
Some regulations provide for exceptions and specify the procedures to be followed. When not otherwise specified, requests for exceptions to academic regulations shall be made to the VPAA/Dean. Requests for exceptions to regulations other than academic regulations shall be made to the administrators in whose area of responsibility they fall.

Academic Standing

Master’s Level Programs
To remain in good academic standing, a student must maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00. If a student’s cumulative grade point average falls below a 2.00, the student will be placed on ACADEMIC PROBATION at the end of that semester. In the next semester, a student who fails to achieve at least a 2.00 GPA will be placed on ACADEMIC SUSPENSION. A student who achieves at least a 2.00 semester GPA but has not attained a cumulative 2.00 GPA will be placed on PROBATION CONTINUED. Failure to have attained a cumulative GPA of 2.00 and return to good academic standing by the end of that semester will result in the academic suspension of the student from the seminary.

Any student who fails a course for the second time or who fails three courses in any one semester will be suspended at the end of that semester. A student suspended for poor scholarship will not be eligible for reconsideration of admission for at least one semester. To be considered for readmission after the period of suspension, a student must demonstrate competence and commitment to theological education. The student should contact the Director of Admissions and schedule an appointment with the VPAA/Dean. Readmission is by action of the Admissions Committee. In the case of suspension, a student’s ecclesiastical judiciary may be informed.
Student Records

Students have the right to inspect their own academic record (from which transcripts are made), and are entitled to an explanation of any information recorded in it. Transcripts from other schools on file with MTS cannot be copied and given to the student or a third party. Students have the right to examine all other items contained in their own records on file with the Registrar, except such items to which access may be waived. Faculty and administrative officers of the seminary who have a legitimate interest in the material and demonstrate a need to know will be permitted access to the academic records of any student.

Transcripts

A transcript will be released only upon written request of the student, and only if all financial obligations have been met. When submitting a transcript request, the request should include the address to where the transcript should be mailed. Any transcript mailed directly to a student will be stamped “Issued to Student.” There is no charge for the first transcript but subsequent transcripts are $3 per copy.

Class Attendance

Punctual class attendance is a requirement of every course. A student who is absent from a class is responsible for reporting the reason for the absence directly to the professor. Absences may adversely affect the grade received in the course. If absences in a course for any reason exceed one-third of the class sessions, the student will receive an F in the course. Professors may set a more stringent attendance policy in specific courses. These policies will be specified in the course syllabus.

Recordings

Use of tape recorders in the classroom must be negotiated with the professor. By virtue of enrollment in any course, students agree to abide by this policy.

Classification

Students pursuing an M.Div. degree are classified as a junior prior to the completion of 27 semesters hours, as a Middler on completion of 28 to 53 semester hours, and as a senior on the completion of a minimum of 54 semester hours. A student pursuing an M.A.R. degree is classified as junior prior to the completion of 24 hours.

Time Limit

Students may complete the degree requirements as stated in the catalog for the year in which they enter the seminary or in the catalog of any subsequent year, providing the catalog is not more than five years old. The time limit for completion of degrees is five years for the M.A.R. degree, and seven years for the M.Div. degree. The VPAA/Dean must approve any extensions of time.

Course Load

Full-time study is defined as enrollment in at least 9 semester hours during each fall and spring term. For financial aid purposes, 6 semester hours is generally regarded as full-time enrollment. During the interim terms, enrollment in 3 semester hours is full-time. Specific scholarships may have additional course load requirements.

The M.Div. degree can be completed in three academic years with an average load of 30 hours each year. The M.A.R. degree can be completed in two academic years with an average load of 25 hours each year. It is recommended that the time for earning a degree be extended if the student is engaged in remunerative work that requires 20 hours per week or more.
Independent Studies

An independent study course consists of a course involving independent research conducted by a student and supervised by a professor, or the independent study of a designated elective course during a term when the course is not being offered in the regular course schedule. Work on a thesis will not be considered an independent study.

Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 to engage in independent studies and must have earned at least a B in the foundational course of that particular field of study. Before taking an independent study course, a student must have completed 24 credit hours if enrolled in the M.A.R. degree, or 44 hours if enrolled in the M.Div. program. During their course of study, students may only engage in one independent study per faculty member. Students in the M.A.R. degree program can take no more then (2) independent studies and students in the M.Div. program can take no more than (3) independent studies during their degree program.

Transfer Credit

The number of credits transferred cannot exceed 42 semester hours toward the degree of Master of Divinity or 21 semester hours toward the degree of Master of Arts (Religion). No transfer credits may be applied toward the Doctor of Ministry degree. Courses with a letter grade of C or better are considered for transfer credit and will not be calculated in a student’s grade point average at Memphis Theological Seminary. Transfer credit will only be given for courses completed at institutions that are accredited by the Association of Theological Schools or by the appropriate regional accrediting agency.

Students with similar undergraduate coursework required in master’s level programs may substitute advanced courses in the same field subject to approval of the VPAA/Dean in consultation with appropriate professors. When such a substitution is made, students must still complete the same number of hours in the corresponding field.

Students wishing to take a course at another institution, while concurrently enrolled at MTS, for which transfer credit at MTS will be sought must obtain prior permission from the VPAA/Dean. A maximum of six hours of credit may be obtained off-campus, excluding biblical languages and Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE).

Graduation

A graduation ceremony is conducted annually at the end of every spring semester. All students who have completed degree requirements and settled all financial accounts with the seminary are eligible to participate.

An Intent to Graduate form must be filed with the Registrar no later than the last day to add or drop classes in the fall semester of the academic year in which the student will graduate. This includes students who intend to graduate in December, May, or July of that academic year.
Alumni Association

Grads of MTS, The Cumberland Presbyterian Seminary in McKenzie, and the Program of Alternate Studies (PAS) are eligible as alumni to join the MTS Alumni Association. Benefits of membership are available through the Alumni Affairs Department. Annual dues are $20 or $100 lifetime.

Alumni Reunion 2008- Pink Palace Museum

The mission of the Alumni Association is to maintain a mutually beneficial and continuing relationship between alumni and the seminary, which may lead to Board of Trustee service, volunteerism, financial support, and prayer.

For more information, contact the Alumni Affairs Department, alumni@MemphisSeminary.edu.

Honors and Awards (master’s level program)

Honors will be awarded for academic excellence as indicated by overall grade point averages as of the semester prior to graduation and as indicated below:

- 3.85 - 4.00 Summa Cum Laude
- 3.75 - 3.84 Magna Cum Laude
- 3.50 - 3.74 Cum Laude

Alston Award is given annually to an outstanding male and female black student to recognize academic accomplishment and leadership and to encourage additional graduate study. It was established by Bishop Bettie Alston, a graduate of MTS, Rev. Neasbie Alston, and the Alston Family Evangelistic Association.

Hoyt Hickman Award is presented to a graduating student who has shown superior academic and practical skill in liturgy. It is sponsored by the Order of Saint Luke.

Mary Elliot Miller Award is given annually to an outstanding female student. It was established by the children of Mary Elliot Miller in memory of their mother, who was an MTS alumna.

Virginia Howell Ingram Award is given on alternate years to a student for the best research paper and to a faculty member for the best research proposal in Cumberland Presbyterian Studies. It was established by Dr. William T. Ingram, Jr., former President of MTS, in honor of his wife, Virginia H. Ingram.

Woosley Award is given annually to a female student with a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or above and has demonstrated some form of leadership in her ministry, church or community. Details regarding the application process are available under the Other Scholarships heading.
FINANCIAL INFORMATION

All tuition and fees are due on or before the first day of classes. No student will be permitted to register until all outstanding accounts to the seminary are paid in full. Any exceptions to this policy must be requested of the business office. All fees listed in this catalog are subject to change.

Everything possible will be done to assist applicants in their search for financial resources for their education at MTS.

Finance Charges

A finance charge will be added to any account with an outstanding balance. Finance charges are subject to change.

Financial Assistance

The following forms of tuition benefits, scholarships, and federal financial aid are available to students enrolled at Memphis Theological Seminary. For additional information on any other external financial resources, please contact the Director of Admissions.

Tuition Benefits

Special tuition reductions are available for the following classifications of students:

- Auditors over 65 years of age
- Cumberland Presbyterian International students seeking a degree to qualify for ordination
- MTS alumni auditors
- Seminary personnel

Veteran’s Benefits

Memphis Theological Seminary is approved for persons wishing to study under the provisions for educational benefits for veterans of the U.S. military services. Information regarding benefits available should be obtained directly from the nearest office of the Department of Veteran’s Affairs. Inquiries regarding assistance by the seminary in processing applications should be addressed to: Registrar, Memphis Theological Seminary, 168 East Parkway South, Memphis, TN 38104-4395.

Scholarships

The list of available scholarships at Memphis Theological Seminary includes the following:

African American Student Academic Scholarship: This scholarship is for African American students who graduated from undergraduate studies with a cumulative GPA of 3.50 or above on a 4.00 scale, and who are enrolled for nine hours or more in each of the fall and spring semesters and three hours or more in the summer.

The scholarship will furnish 40% tuition costs throughout the program, provided that the student maintains both MTS semester and cumulative GPAs of 3.5 or above. Should the student fail to maintain the required GPA's and the nine semester hours’ enrollment in any one semester, he/she will not be eligible to receive the scholarship funds for the following semester. If the student regains both semester and cumulative 3.5 GPAs and enrollment in the required number of hours, he/she will be eligible for the scholarship the following semester. The scholarship cannot be continued to a second degree program. Apply to the Director of Admissions.
Cumberland Presbyterian Honor Scholarships: Full tuition may be awarded each year to two students who had an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 3.50 or above on a 4.00 scale and who are enrolled in the Master of Divinity program. The scholarship monies include the 70% service loan allotment. The Honor Scholarship is awarded automatically each semester as long as the student maintains a seminary cumulative GPA of 3.50 or above. Should a student fail to maintain the required GPA, the scholarship will be dropped for the semester immediately following. Should the student regain the required GPA, the scholarship will be reinstated. The scholarship cannot be continued to a second degree program.

Cumberland Presbyterian Service Loans: Cumberland Presbyterian students may apply for financial assistance in the form of service loans for up to 70% of tuition. The note for the service loan contains a stipulation which calls for cancellation of the note after a period of service in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church as set forth in the service loan agreement. An exit interview with the Director of Financial Aid is required prior to graduation. Follow up monitoring will be conducted following graduation on a semi-annual basis in order to ascertain that recipients are fulfilling their service loan obligations.

Denominational Loans/Scholarships: Many denominations have programs of financial assistance for persons studying for the ministry or other church vocations. Students and prospective students are encouraged to investigate these sources of financial aid. The seminary will assist, if required, in processing applications.

Henry Logan Starks Scholarships: This scholarship may be awarded each semester to African American students enrolled in a master’s level degree program who have and maintain both semester and cumulative GPAs of 3.00 or higher. Entering students are not eligible in their first semester, but may apply at the appropriate time during the first semester for an award for the second semester through the Director of Financial Aid.

Application for the scholarship should be made at the time of pre-registration in November or April. A student must be enrolled each semester for a minimum of 6 semester hours. If a 3.00 or better GPA is maintained, the scholarship will be awarded for the following semester. The scholarship will be renewed automatically each semester as long as the student maintains both semester and cumulative GPAs of 3.00 or higher and successfully complete the required 6 hours.

Should a student fail to maintain the required GPA, the scholarship will be dropped for the semester immediately following. The student is eligible for the scholarship to be reinstated once both the semester and cumulative GPAs are raised to 3.00 or higher.

Students who receive the African American Student Academic Scholarship are not eligible to receive the Henry Logan Starks Scholarship. The application deadline for the Henry Logan Starks Scholarship is the last day of each fall and spring semester for the upcoming semester.

International Scholarships: Limited scholarships of up to 100% are available for International students. The scholarship cannot be continued to a second degree program. The student must be enrolled for nine hours or more in each of the fall and spring semesters, and three hours or more in the summer. Apply to the Director of Admissions.

Other Scholarships
For scholarships below, please apply in writing to the Director of Financial Aid no later than Early Spring Registration. Unless otherwise indicated, students are eligible to apply for any of the following scholarships upon enrollment. Students who receive the African American Student Academic Scholarship are not eligible to receive any of these scholarships. Semester and cumulative grade point averages of 3.00 or higher and enrollment of six semester hours in a degree-seeking program are required unless otherwise specified in the information listed below.

Alston Family Evangelistic Association Endowment Fund: This scholarship is available in one annual disbursement to two African American students who are preparing for ministry and who demonstrate a financial need.

Bernice A. Humphreys Scholarship Endowment (formerly known as the PCUSA Scholarship): This recipient must be under the care of a PCUSA Presbytery and seeking one of the Masters degrees. Written and signed verification from Presbytery official required.

Bettye and Dick Hendrix Scholarship: This scholarship fund is available for a United Methodist student from Arkansas.

Cardelia Howell-Diamond Scholarship: Cumberland Presbyterian students from the Del Cristo Presbytery may apply for this scholarship.

Crystal Monique Mickens-Wells Scholarship: This scholarship provides an opportunity for an African American student to go on the immersion trip to Mexico as a way of enhancing the overall seminary experience. It is established by the Rev. S.H. Mickens (MAR ‘04, MDiv ‘07) and his family in memory of his daughter Crystal, a teacher, scholar and wife who died November 8, 2004.

Dawson Ministerial Scholarship: This scholarship is available to any United Methodist student of the Memphis Annual Conference who is a deacon candidate and has completed at least one year of seminary studies and who meets the criteria of the grant. Details and applications are available in the Financial Aid Office.

Gadsden Area Churches Trust Fund: This scholarship fund is available for a Cumberland Presbyterian student from the Gadsden, Alabama, area.

H. W. Durham Foundation Scholarship: This scholarship, established in 2009, will provide support of $1,000 for five students who meet the established criteria. Qualified students are over the age 55, enrolled full-time, exhibit strong promise for excellence in ministry, able to articulate faith in a compelling way, and demonstrate financial need. Priority is given to those who are incoming, first-year students who have little, if any, denominational support. (Continuation of this scholarship is dependent on additional funding from the foundation.)

Henry Clay and Alfreda Gibbs Buntyn Scholarship: Full-time, degree-seeking Christian Methodist Episcopal students are eligible to apply for this scholarship which is available in one annual disbursement and awarded to one student who demonstrates financial need.

Mary Guice Memorial Endowment Fund: United Methodist students from Mississippi may apply for scholarships from this endowment.

Margaret I. Dirks Endowment Scholarship: This recipient must be a member of the PCUSA seeking an MDiv degree and ordination. Written and signed verification from a PCUSA denomination official is required. Also required is a cumulative GPA of 2.5 from an undergraduate degree and the completion of one full semester at MTS with a cumulative GPA of 2.5. May reapply in subsequent years if continued eligibility is maintained.

Margaret I. Gunn Memorial Fund: This fund assists United Methodist students currently under the guidance of the Board of Ministry of the Memphis Annual Conference.
Memphis Inter-Denominational (MID) Fellowship: This book scholarship is available for one full-time first year African American female student pursuing a Master of Divinity degree. Each student will be required to submit an application for consideration. Applications will be available beginning July 1 and due by September 1. The Director of Financial Aid will collect the applications and forward them to MID Fellowship Educational Committee for consideration.

Mississippi Area Churches Trust Fund: This scholarship is available for a Cumberland Presbyterian student from the former Mississippi Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Robert Lee Truax Jr. Award for Academic Achievement Endowment Fund: This cash award is distributed each November to students who qualify. Recipients must have an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 3.50 or above on a 4.00 scale with at least 24 undergraduate semester hours in Mathematics, Philosophy, Psychology, or Sociology; must have and maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.50 at MTS; must have completed 48 semester hours at MTS within the past 24 months; and must currently be enrolled at MTS for at least 12 semester hours.

Richard M. and Martha Carol Baker Scholarship Endowment Fund: Established in 2006, this fund is available for a United Methodist student from the Memphis Annual Conference after successful completion of the student’s first semester.

Thomas W. Briggs Foundation Scholarship: This scholarship, established in 2009, will provide tuition support of $10,000 for one deserving individual in the 2009-2010 academic year. (Continuation of this scholarship is dependent on additional funding from the foundation.)

Tri-Mu Bible Class Scholarship: United Methodist students who are being educated to serve as pastors may apply for this scholarship.

The Woosley Scholarship Award: This scholarship is awarded to a female student who is currently enrolled in the Master of Divinity or Master of Arts (Religion) degree program. The scholarship will be awarded annually in the spring to a student who plans to graduate from MTS the following academic year. The student must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or above and have demonstrated some form of leadership in her ministry, church or community. The student should forward application and evidence of accomplishment to the Director of Financial Aid.

(NOTE: The availability of endowment-funded scholarships is contingent upon interest earned on the endowment.)

Federal Financial Aid

Loans under the Federal Stafford Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loan Program are available to degree-seeking students who are enrolled in at least six hours per semester. Students make initial application to determine financial eligibility through the Office of Financial Aid.

The U.S. Department of Education (USDE) requires a Statute of Limitations referred to as Quantitative Measure Maximum Timeframe (QMMT) in which students may take advantage of receiving Federal Student Aid (FSA). The QMMT at Memphis Theological Seminary (MTS) measures both terms of enrollment and hours earned. This means that once the timeframe expires, the student is not eligible to receive Federal Student Aid. For FSA purposes, each degree has a different QMMT based on the time limit policy that is set forth by MTS. A chart which outlines the QMMT increments is available for review and distribution from the Financial Aid Office upon request. Students who apply completing halftime status in each term that he/she is enrolled. Students who are enrolled in less than halftime status do not make the progress that is required for them to graduate within the QMMT. The timeframe starts with the first enrollment period at MTS and expires/stops at the end of the QMMT. More fully, if a student earns the number of hours required for a degree program that he/she is enrolled in before the QMMT expires/stops, he/she will not be eligible to receive FSA for any hours that exceed the degree requirements for graduation. Periods that students are enrolled but not receiving FSA count towards the QMMT. Although we count summer hours completed towards the hours measurement, we do not count summer (non-standard terms) towards the QMMT of the progress. Only long semester (standard terms which are fall and spring) periods of enrollment are counted. See time limits listed below:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Degree</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Master of Arts (Religion) (MAR)</td>

<td>Master of Divinity (M.Div)</td>
<td>Seven Years</td>
<td>87 Hours</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.)</td>
<td></td>
<td>36 Hours</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

(Note: For students who earn the M.Div degree at MTS and return to earn the M.A.R., their QMMT will be structured based on the number of hours that they are required to complete in their program.)

Refer to the Doctor of Ministry sections on enrollment and registration and seminars in the MTS catalogue for further details. Students who receive FSA need to complete the D.Min. program within four years.

Financial Aid Office Code of Conduct:

All institutions participating in any Title IV loan programs are required to create and implement a code of conduct. The code must be published on the institution’s website.

The code of conduct that the MTS Financial Aid Office operates under includes the following:

1) No entering into revenue-sharing arrangements with lenders.
2) No accepting of gifts of more than nominal value from lenders, guarantors and loan servicers.
3) No compensation for performance of consulting services for lenders.
4) No assigning of lenders to first-time borrowers.
5) We will not refuse to certify a loan based on the borrower’s choice unless the lender has deacti-vated from the loan program.
6) No participation in opportunity pools with lenders.
7) We will not permit lender staff members to assume institutional call center or financial aid office staff functions.
8) If any of our staff serve as advisory board members, they will not be allowed to be compensated, except for reasonable expenses incurred as a result of that service, such as travel expenses.
9) We will not passively process or certify a loan for a student based solely on completion of a FAFSA without his/her permission to move forward.)
The student handbook provides guidance and information for students attending Memphis Theological Seminary. It includes general information about services and expectations for the student community. In addition, each student shall be held responsible for rules or policies either listed elsewhere in seminary publications or promulgated and announced by authorized administrative seminary officials.

Community Life
Memphis Theological Seminary seeks to be a Christian community of study, worship, fellowship, and service. Persons with various backgrounds, cultures, and denominational traditions come together in the spirit of ecumenical cooperation in theological education. The seminary welcomes varied theological understandings and practices of the Christian faith, and affirms the contributions of all members of the community. While the community is residentially dispersed, its members are united by the common purpose of theological education carried out in the context of concern for the Christian church and its differing ministries. Though diverse in race, gender, tradition, and theological understanding, the common bond of love in Jesus Christ binds the community together.

The Seminary community carries out its life together in various ways. Worship draws the community together every week for praise of God and celebration of Holy Communion. Classes meet on weekdays and nights to stimulate theological understanding and to enhance preparation for Christian ministry. Fellowship occurs around the coffee-pot in the Great Hall, in the student center, and at various dinners and social events throughout the year. Annual lectureships bring leading scholars to the Seminary to affirm and challenge our Christian vision and witness. Student groups are organized to increase leadership and identity within the community, including Women in Ministry, the Student Senate, and various denominational groups. In these ways, MTS seeks to invite all participants into an inclusive and reconciling community.

Academic Freedom
As the Holy Spirit forms Memphis Theological Seminary into a community of faith that shares in Jesus’ ministry of love and justice to the world, participants experience growth through the process of theological education. The seminary respects the uniqueness of each person’s intellectual and spiritual growth in discipleship and affirms the freedom of individual conscience in dialogue with the wisdom of Christian tradition. Therefore, every professor and student at Memphis Theological Seminary shall have that freedom of thought, discussion, and action which is required in the individual and communal pursuit of truth. The exercise of academic freedom also entails respect for the purposes of the seminary and the responsibility to support its objectives.

Language
Believing that God creates and redeems humanity by ‘word’ and ‘word made flesh,’ the MTS community takes seriously the agency of language within the classroom and the sanctuary. The use of inclusive language in writing and speaking expresses respect for all persons. It promotes reconciliation and harmony while affirming every member of the human family as no less than a child of God. In our language by, to, and about human beings, we require the use of inclusive language in accordance with standard academic practice. In our language by, to, and about God, we encourage the use of the full range of Biblical language and metaphors, affirming with the Great Tradition of Christian history that God is neither male nor female, and that the fullness of God is beyond all human naming.

Brown-Shannon Hall
Brown-Shannon Hall, located adjacent to the seminary building, provides community learners space for eating, studying, and lounging. Other amenities include faculty office space, a conference room and restrooms. The building is named after the late Dr. Paul Brown, former professor of Homiletics and Worship, and the late Ed Shannon, former caretaker and security guard.
Student Assessment

Memphis Theological Seminary assesses student and institutional progress. Degree seeking students are required to participate in the educational assessment essays and the Profiles of Ministry program. The educational assessments of theological education (e.g., scholarship piety and justice) will be conducted in three phases for students in the Masters degree programs. On admission to Memphis Theological Seminary, students will be asked to conduct a self-assessment of what they hope to accomplish through their seminary experience. Both at the midway point of the degree program, at 24 hours for the Master of Arts (Religion), and 43 hours for the Master of Divinity, and on completion of the degree program, students will be asked to assess their progress in light of the goals. They will be asked to share their reflections with their academic advisor. The reflections will then be considered by the faculty in future planning and evaluation.

Students are also given the chance to provide feedback about each course they take using the student evaluation of instruction form. A comprehensive survey is administered often, covering all aspects of the institution. Other programs and events also use written evaluation forms to obtain student input. Candidates in the Doctor of Ministry program will conduct assessments after each segment of the program.

Student Services

A. Student Governance
The official representative of the student body of MTS is the Student Senate. The scope, membership, and powers of the Senate are outlined in the Student Senate Constitution, which may be obtained from any member of the Student Senate.

The Senate has responsibility to express and interpret student opinions to the faculty and administration, to be involved in achieving student goals, to be involved in the execution of those policies which the Senate has power to execute, to keep the student body informed on matters of student interest, and to participate in the provisions, coordination, and regulation of cultural, educational, social, and recreational programs which benefit the Seminary community.

The Student Senate is composed of the Executive Committee (president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer) and three Junior Class representatives, two Middler representatives, and two Senior representatives. The faculty is also represented with a faculty advisor, who serves as a liaison between the faculty, administration, and the student body. Elections are held at the end of each academic year for the next year.

The Student Senate meets monthly. Any student, faculty member, or member of the administrative staff may propose agenda items or gain the privilege of addressing an issue before the Senate by contacting a member of the Senate, who will bring the request to the next meeting for consideration.

B. Commuter Housing
The seminary owns a limited number of housing units. These renovated units, adjacent to the main campus, are utilized primarily for commuter residents. Commuter housing is available for students who live outside the metropolitan area, usually in excess of 75 miles. A limited number of spaces are available. Commuting students may rent a room for the same night(s) in each week for the whole semester. A new application is required each semester.

Commuter housing fees are $30 per night and are to be paid to the Business Office. Applications for commuter housing are available from the Housing Coordinator in the Facilities and Safety Department (also located on the website), and are to be returned to that office. The policies for Commuter Housing are listed on the application. For more detailed information, please contact the Housing Coordinator.
C. Parking
Student parking, with the exception of handicapped students and students living in Campus Housing, is on the main parking lot on the west side of Lindenwood Christian Church. Lindenwood Church is located directly across Union Avenue from the seminary campus. Spaces for parking by handicapped students are reserved in the seminary’s parking lots. To occupy a handicapped parking space, the student must display an official handicap decal or license from the appropriate state. Cars not so identified will be towed.

Only students living in Campus Housing are permitted to park at student housing. These students must have appropriate housing decals. All cars are to be parked on paved areas only. Students found in violation of the parking arrangements shall be issued a warning ticket upon the first violation, and a $25 fine thereafter. Students receiving 3 or more violations in a semester will be subject to a disciplinary hearing with the Director of Student Services and Director of Facilities. Parking is available after 5:00pm behind Founders Hall and Cumberland Hall.

D. Placement
The Director of Student Services is available to consult with students and advise them with regard to placement, however students are encouraged to use such services as are available to them in their own denominational organization in finding work opportunities. Because of its relationship to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the seminary is able to give particular attention to the placement of Cumberland Presbyterian students, both during and after their matriculation. Inquiries about placement should be sent to the Director of Student Services.

E. Activities
Community Worship: The seminary community meets weekly in the P. F. Johnson Chapel of Founders’ Hall. The Seminary Chaplain plans and directs community worship.

Women’s Issues in Ministry: The Student Senate sponsors special activities each year in which particular attention is given to issues that arise in the changing roles of women in culture, and particularly in the church. This program may include special lectures, forums, workshops, or displays by women who are prominent scholars, teachers, and ministerial leaders.

African American Celebration: Each year during February, Memphis Theological Seminary engages in a celebration of African American history, culture, and religion. Sponsored by the Student Senate, the program includes special lectures by prominent African American scholars, teachers, ministers, and other leaders. Particular attention is given to the African American experience in the Christian religion and the significance of that experience in theological education.

Fellowship Meals/Breaks: Fellowship meals are held at various times throughout the academic year. Students, faculty, staff and their families are invited.

Theological Colloquia for the seminary and the wider community are offered annually in the fall and spring. Student attendance is a requirement for graduation. Students in the Master of Divinity program must have attended a minimum of 18 theological colloquium sessions to graduate. Master of Arts (Religion) students must have attended a minimum of 12 theological colloquium sessions to graduate.

F. Care and Counseling
Support is always available at MTS for students, faculty, and staff who need assistance with personal and familial concerns of a confidential nature. MTS employs a chaplain who is available to assist persons who may need counseling. Those seeking such support may speak with the chaplain, the director of student services, or another member of the faculty or staff.
Students’ Rights and Responsibilities

Memphis Theological Seminary was founded on Christian principals by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and proudly continues its church relationship as an institution dedicated to seeking and imparting truth. Memphis Theological Seminary does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, age, or handicap in administering its educational policies and school-related programs. Attendance at Memphis Theological Seminary is a privilege and not a right. No student will be dismissed except in accordance with prescribed procedures.

Students applying for admissions do so voluntarily and are free to withdraw at their pleasure, subject to compliance with the regulations governing withdrawal and to the fulfillment of their financial obligations to the seminary. Upon matriculation at Memphis Theological Seminary, each student agrees to be bound by the rules, policies, procedures, and administrative regulations in effect at the time of admission and as changed by duly constituted authorities.

By admission as a student at Memphis Theological Seminary, a person acquires the right to pursue the course of study to which he or she is admitted, and to be treated with the dignity appropriate to an adult person in all matters relating to the seminary. In the same spirit, the student shall comply with the rules and regulations of the seminary.

Students will be provided with the opportunity to participate in the development of rules and procedures pertaining to seminary affairs to the extent that such participation and the results thereof, as determined by the board of trustees or its designated agent, are consistent with orderly process and with the policies and administrative responsibilities of the board of trustees and the administration. The seminary expects students to conduct themselves with dignity, courtesy, responsibility, and integrity, and with due respect for the rights of others, realizing that sobriety and morality are not only characteristics of a mature and responsible person, but are also essential to the maintenance of a free and orderly society.

Individuals associated with Memphis Theological Seminary represent a variety of viewpoints. The seminary fosters the free expression and interchange of differing views through oral and written discourse and logical persuasion. Dissent, to be acceptable, must be orderly and peaceful and represent constructive alternatives reasonably presented. Coercion, threats, demands, vulgarity, obstructionism, and violence are not acceptable. Demonstrations, marches, sit-ins, or noisy protests that are designed or intended to disrupt normal institutional pursuits will not be permitted. However, academic and administrative procedures will protect individuals in the right of free expression and provide for prompt and appropriate action against those individuals who abuse such rights.

Classes and routine operations will not be suspended except for reasonable cause as determined by the President.

Academic Misconduct
Cheating on an examination or in the writing of assigned papers is an act contrary to the covenant into which the student enters when he/she enrolls in Memphis Theological Seminary, and is incompatible with the nature of the Christian life.

Cheating on an examination includes, but is not limited to, using notes or other materials not authorized by the professor when answering a question, copying from another student, soliciting answers, or intentionally providing answers to other students. Plagiarism in writing assigned papers is defined as using materials in a paper without citing the author or authors, or copying a paper or article or portions of either written by another person and representing it as one’s own work.
Ideas borrowed or paraphrased from another writer must be cited. All material taken word-for-word from any other source must be in quotation marks, with citation following, even if the quoted material is as short as five or six words. Failure to do so will be regarded as cheating. Furthermore, it is cheating to change a few words of someone else’s work in order to avoid the need for quotation marks. However, phrases that are common theological language, such as “the new quest for the historical Jesus,” do not need to be in quotation marks, since they occur in many sources. For more information, please see the section on plagiarism in the current issue of the “MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers” in the reference section of the library.

When a professor has evidence that a student has cheated on an examination or assigned paper, he/she shall check with the VPAA/Dean to determine whether the student has been reported in other incidents of cheating or suspected cheating. The professor shall confer with the student about the matter. If there have been no previous confirmed incidents of cheating, the professor shall determine a penalty and advise both the student and the VPAA/Dean in writing. At the request of the student or the professor, the VPAA/Dean may confer with the student. A record of the incident shall be placed in the student’s file. Should the professor, when consulting with the VPAA/Dean, determine that cheating by the student has been confirmed previously, the professor shall confer with the student and advise him/her that a grade of F shall be given in the course. A report of the incident shall be made in writing by the professor to the VPAA/Dean.

After a third offense has been filed with the Registrar’s Office, the VPAA/Dean shall confer with the student and suspend him/her from school, and shall place a record of the action in the student’s file. Any appeal from actions taken shall be made in accordance with the “Grievance Procedure for Students” contained in this Handbook. It is the responsibility of any member of the seminary community to report any cheating incident to a member of the faculty or to the Academic Dean as soon as possible.

Personal Misconduct

Students are expected to participate in seminary life and study in a constructive manner. Behavior which is disruptive to the seminary community life will be regarded as grounds for probation or suspension. In cases of such behavior, the VPAA/Dean shall determine whether probation or suspension is warranted. If a student has been placed on probation due to disruptive behavior, such probation shall ordinarily be for one semester. If no further disruptive behavior is reported, the student shall be removed from probation the following semester.

If the VPAA/Dean determines that a student’s behavior warrants suspension, the VPAA/Dean shall convene the Admissions Committee, which will decide if suspension is warranted. If a student who has been suspended wishes to remain in good standing, he or she must request this from the Admissions Committee in writing. The Admissions Committee shall decide the matter.

Sexual Misconduct/Harassment Policy

Sexual misconduct/harassment includes but is not limited to all crimes involving sexual conduct under state penal codes such as indecent exposure, indecency with a child, sexual assault (including rape), and also other inappropriate sexual conduct which may not violate a penal statute. Again these actions include but are not limited to the coercion of another person into a sexual relationship, or an attempt to create a sexually suggestive, intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or worship or educational environment. Sexual misconduct/harassment includes a wide range of behaviors, from active sexual coercion to the unwelcome emphasizing of sexual identity. This policy is based upon an understanding of accepted standards of mature behavior, Christian tradition, and freedom of expression.

Sexual misconduct/harassment in any situation is absolutely unacceptable. Sexual misconduct/harassment is particularly reprehensible when it exploits the religious, spiritual, or psychological dependence and trust between persons. All people in positions of authority should be sensitive to the possible misunderstanding that could result from personal relationships that also involve professional and religious relationships.
Individuals who believe that they have been sexually harassed or are victims of other misconduct should report the misconduct through the established formal procedures of the seminary. Only a written, signed complaint to the president of the seminary can initiate formal procedures against alleged sexual misconduct/harassment. People in authority who receive reports of misconduct of harassment must respond promptly and fairly, and comply with the law of the state. The seminary will respect the right to confidentiality of all members of the community in both informal and formal procedures, insofar as possible. An individual found to be guilty of sexual misconduct/harassment is subject to disciplinary action.

Any person who believes a sexual misconduct/harassment complaint did not receive prompt and fair response should appeal to the Board of Trustees of Memphis Theological Seminary.

Grievance Procedure (academic, library, policy, student government, accrediting)
The grievance procedure for students at Memphis Theological Seminary is designed to insure due process, but it allows sufficient flexibility to permit the resolution of problems within the framework of personal conferences. Any appeal of an original decision must be made in writing. A student has the right to appear before the person or persons to whom the appeal has been made. The fact that a student exercises the right of appeal shall not prejudice the case.

1) Matters pertaining to classes (assignments, examinations, grades, attendance) shall be discussed with the professor. Issues that are not resolved after meeting with the professor are presented to a committee composed of faculty. Afterwards, if the action that has been taken is not satisfactory to the student, an appeal is made to the VPAA/Dean and then to the President.

2) Matters pertaining to the administration of policies of the library shall be discussed first with the Librarian. Issues that cannot be resolved may be appealed to the VPAA/Dean, and then to the President.

3) Matters pertaining to ATS accrediting standards shall be discussed with the VPAA/Dean and the accreditation liaison. Issues that cannot be resolved may be appealed directly to The Association of Theological Schools of the United States and Canada, 10 Summit Park Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15275-1103. Complaints filed with ATS must be in writing and must be accompanied by complete documentation. Records of such complaints shall be maintained by the VPAA/Dean.

4) Matters pertaining to the administration of policies other than those of an academic nature or of the library should be discussed with the VP of Operations.

5) Proposals of students concerning changes in school policy shall be discussed with the VPAA/Dean and the accreditation liaison. Issues that cannot be resolved may be appealed to the Faculty, and finally to the Board of Trustees.

Grievance Procedures (D.Min)
If a student has a personal or academic grievance with anyone involved in the Doctor of Ministry program, the student should first contact that person. If the matter cannot be resolved satisfactorily, the student has the right to submit a formal written complaint to the Doctor of Ministry Committee. A meeting shall be arranged to meet or communicate with each party. A decision shall be rendered by the Committee and shall be considered final.

Grievance Procedures (personal)
The administration, in consultation with Student Council, has established processes for resolving concerns or complaints students may have with the seminary at the personal or administrative levels. The process to express student concerns includes the use of an Ad Hoc Student Concerns Committee. We intend for this to be a standard process for resolving any concern or grievance that may develop in the course of our learning together. In addition, in order to deal with situations that have special features, certain exceptions to the standards, are delineated below:
Should a grievance arise, first approach the other(s) involved to try to resolve the situation privately.

If no resolution is reached, discuss the situation with the Director of Student Services, in order to develop a plan to resolve the problem. These plans will vary with the individual situations. In the event that the student is filing a formal complaint, the student must submit the complaint in writing to the Director of Student Services. No adverse action will be taken against a student for filing a formal complaint.

If there is still no resolution, or in the case of a formal complaint, the problem will be heard by the Student Concerns Committee within fourteen days of the filing of the formal complaint. The Director of Student Services will serve as chair of this committee, and appoint an appropriate faculty and student representative for each situation heard by the Student Concerns Committee. The committee shall not be composed of individuals directly involved in the alleged problem. The committee that hears the case situation will then make recommendations to the administration for final resolution. The Director of Student Services will communicate the final resolution to the student within seven days from the committee hearing. In the event that the Director of Student Services is directly involved in the alleged problem, the president shall appoint a temporary chair of the committee who shall be responsible to deliver the final determination in writing to the student.

Note that, since full hearing of a problem may involve sharing legally confidential information, parties are not at liberty to engage in full discussion until the student making the complaint signs an information release for discussion of such matters before the committee.

Other informal avenues of resolution may be pursued. In general, concerns that are community-wide in scope may be addressed to the Student Council through its officers or class representatives.

Concerns with a faculty member may be addressed to the VPAA/Dean, assuming the student is unable first to resolve the issue privately with the faculty member. For any other matters that are not covered by this process, the Director of Student Services is available for consultation.

Intellectual Property Policy

MTS recognizes that research, writing and creative activities are vital to the intellectual and spiritual growth of the seminary community, and that faculty must be free to choose and pursue areas of study and concentration, to share the results of their intellectual efforts with colleagues and students, and to retain the traditional academic freedoms for the conduct of scholarly work. It is intended that the application of this policy will take into consideration principles of open and full disclosure, overall equity, fairness to faculty, students and staff, and the need for understanding and goodwill among the parties who have an interest in intellectual property.

Purpose

* to foster the free and creative expression and exchange of ideas
* to preserve traditional practices and privileges with respect to the publication of scholarly works
* to establish principles and procedures for sharing income derived from copyrightable materials, patentable inventions, and other intellectual property produced at the Seminary
* to protect the assets of MTS

Definitions

Application

This Policy is binding on MTS faculty, staff, and students as a condition of their participation in MTS research, teaching, and service programs and for their use of MTS funds, facilities or other resources.
Binding Nature of the Intellectual Property Policy

This Policy is binding on MTS faculty, staff and students as a condition of their participation in MTS research, teaching and service programs and for their use of MTS funds, facilities or other resources.

Extraordinary Resources - Allocations of resources, either qualitatively or quantitatively, beyond those available to faculty under normal circumstances.

Faculty

In keeping with traditions, Memphis Theological Seminary acknowledges that members of the faculty retain intellectual property to the work they create during the course and scope of their employment, including but not limited to copyrightable works such as books, articles, and artistic creations, unless the work is specifically commissioned by the Seminary. If a work is specifically commissioned by the Seminary, ownership of the intellectual property rights will be retained by MTS, unless negotiated otherwise by the faculty member and the Seminary on a case by case basis.

Institutional Works - MTS shall retain ownership of works created as institutional works. Institutional Works include works that are supported by a specific allocation of MTS funds, that are created at the direction of MTS for a specific seminary purpose or that are developed in the course of a project arranged, administered or controlled by MTS. Institutional Works also include works whose authorship cannot be attributed to one or a discrete number of authors but rather result from simultaneous or sequential contributions over time by multiple faculty and students. For example, software tools developed and appropriately attributed to a single or defined group of authors would constitute an institutional work. However, the mere fact that multiple individuals have contributed to the creation of a work shall not cause the work to constitute an Institutional Work.

Intellectual Property - The term intellectual property, as used in this policy, is defined as the tangible or intangible result of scholarship, research, development, teaching or other intellectual activity. The term does not include traditional products of scholarship prepared for dissemination outside the Seminary Community, such as books, monographs, articles, reviews, works prepared for worship or use by a church or denomination, and works of art, unless MTS commissioned the product.

MTS Resources - MTS resources are to be used for MTS purposes unless expressly designated otherwise and not for personal gain or personal commercial advantage, nor for any other non-seminary purposes except on a limited and incidental basis.

Ordinary Resources - The general resources of time, salary, staff assistance, travel funds, internal grants, release time, equipment available to any faculty member.

Staff

While MTS acknowledges that staff members may create intellectual works outside the scope of their employment, all works created by non-faculty employees during the course and scope of their employment are considered works made for hire. The Seminary retains ownership of all intellectual property rights to such works. For example, ownership rights to any literary work or computer software written by a staff member belongs to the Seminary.

Student

Students shall retain intellectual property rights to all works created while enrolled at MTS unless the works were specifically commissioned by MTS or, in the event the student is employed by MTS, products are works made for hire, as defined above.

Work for Hire - The term work made for hire, as used in this policy is defined as work prepared by an employee within the scope of his or her employment or a work specifically ordered or commissioned by the institution, if the parties understand and agree in a signed writing before commencement of the work that the work shall be considered work made for hire.

Other Policies

Statement on Morality
The Board of Trustees urges students, faculty, and staff to be sensitive to the standards of sexuality and morality espoused historically, traditionally, and confessionally by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Drug-Free Campus Policy
As a federal contractor and/or grantee Memphis Theological Seminary complies with the requirements of the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988. For this reason, MTS has established as a condition of enrollment/employment with the seminary the following drug and alcohol free workplace/campus policy.

MTS prohibits the possession, use or distribution of alcohol and illegal drugs by students on seminary property (including but not limited to Founders Hall, Cumberland Hall, Hilliard Hall, Brown Shannon Hall, Student and Guest Housing, Maintenance Office Facilities, campus grounds, and parking lots) or as any part of the seminary’s social functions. Communion wine may be used in chapel services with prior approval of the President. Students are to notify the MTS President or Dean/Vice President of Academic Affairs within five (5) days of any observed violation of this policy.

All students are subject to applicable laws related to this matter. Disciplinary action related to any MTS student/student employee who is in violation of this policy may include: oral reprimand/written reprimand/suspension/mandatory successful participation in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program/termination of student tenure/student employment with the seminary.

The MTS staff and faculty stand ready to assist students who may need counseling and treatment for drug/alcohol related problems.

Environmental Policy
We, a community of believers in a nurturing Creator, affirm that God entrusts to us the gift of our world. We share our world with all of nature, one another, and our children.

We sin when we disregard our responsibility in the world and when we ignore abuse of creation. We affirm our responsibility to God and to one another to be good trustees of all creation including animals, plants, and natural resources.

We celebrate all life and affirm nature’s importance and inter-connectedness with our existence. We will encourage and create tangible opportunities for the nurturing of creation on campus and in our communities by initiation and participation in such activities as recycling programs, conservation efforts, car pooling, and pollution cleanup.

Food and Drinks Policy
Food and drinks are prohibited in the library. Drinks only are permitted in classrooms. The deposit of cups and cans in waste containers will improve the housekeeping in the buildings and on campus grounds.

Health Insurance Policy
Most students have their own private health insurance or insurance through their own church or denomination. International students are required to have health insurance. Within two months of becoming a student, Cumberland Presbyterians are eligible to apply to enter the denominational health insurance program. The seminary itself does not provide health insurance nor approve any particular insurance provider, but the seminary does make insurance information available through the office of Student Services.

Involuntary Withdrawal
A student’s continued enrollment at Memphis Theological Seminary is a privilege based not only on satisfactory scholastic status, but also on good emotional health. If, in the opinion of the administration, the student demonstrates evidence of an emotional disorder, the student may be referred by the administration to a seminary-approved psychiatrist for psychiatric evaluation. Refusal to obtain a psychiatric evaluation when properly requested to do so, or determination by the psychiatrist that withdrawal would be in the best interest of the student and the seminary, shall be the cause for involuntary withdrawal of the student from the seminary by the administration. Withdrawal in such cases shall normally incur no academic penalty for the term in which the student is enrolled and tuition refund, if any, shall be based on the schedule established for voluntary withdrawal. The administration shall inform the student in writing of the effective date of the involuntary withdrawal, and shall explain, in writing, the procedure for application for readmission to MTS. Application for readmission after withdrawal for psychiatric reasons will require evaluation by a seminary-approved psychiatrist. A person seeking readmission may choose to submit a written report from their own psychiatrist at their own expense. In no case shall readmission be granted after psychiatric withdrawal without the approval of a seminary-approved psychiatrist.

Smoking Policy
Smoking is prohibited in the facilities of Memphis Theological Seminary. For those who wish to smoke outside, we ask that you avoid blocking main entrances.
As reported in the 2007 Tennessee Bureau of Investigation’s Crime On Campus report published pursuant to the enactment of the “College and University Security Information Act of 1989” (Public Chapter No. 317).

Courses numbered 10000 or 20000 are introductory core courses for which there are no course prerequisites. The credit value of each course is noted in the course description. Some courses described below may not be offered on a regular basis. The seminary reserves the right to alter or eliminate any course.

AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES

At Memphis Theological Seminary there are courses with content of special relevance to students interested in African American studies. These courses are cross-listed with other disciplines, such as Church History, Theology, or Pastoral Care. To help students in their selection of such courses, the designation AA is used in conjunction with the discipline within which the courses fall. Only the discipline designation will be the course number that will appear on transcripts. African American Studies courses are as follows:

AA 06540  AFRICAN TRADITIONAL RELIGIONS  3 hrs.
Indigenous religions of Africa are the focus of this course, which considers the relationship between traditional religions in various African cultures and their impact on an African understanding of Christianity. (See CM 06540).

AA 06009  AFRICAN CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY  3 hrs.
The origin, growth, content, and goals of African Christian theologies are the major components of this course, which emphasizes current contextual and liberation issues as practiced in the Christian churches of Africa and as articulated by African theologies.
Prerequisite: TH 10000. (See CM 06009 or TH 06009)

AA 05301  CHURCH AND SOCIETY IN THE UNITED METHODIST AND AFRICAN-METHODIST TRADITIONS  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (CH 05301/CM 05301) - please see CH 05301 for description.

AA 04840  CONTEMPLATIVE PRACTICES IN THE AFRICAN AMERICAN CHURCH  3 hrs.
This course retrieves the Africana contemplative tradition, its writings, and legacy. Readings will focus on the lives of the African desert mothers and fathers, Ethiopian monastics, and diasporan. Students will also consider the unique “communal contemplative practices” of the African American Church gleaned from music, conversion rituals, movement, and gathering prayers. They will also explore the role of contemplation in their personal faith journey and ministry. Prerequisites: CH 10000 and TH 10000. (See CH 04840 or TH 04840)

AA 04685  MENTORING MINISTRY FOR AFRICAN ADOLESCENT GIRLS  3 hrs.
The purpose of the class is to prepare and equip Christian educators, youth leaders and pastors in the church to more effectively mentor and minister to African American adolescent girls.

AA 04684  WORKING WITH BLACK YOUTH  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 04684 for description.
AA 04439  THE RISE OF INDEPENDENT AFRICAN AMERICAN CHURCHES AND DENOMINATIONS  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (CH 04439/CM 04439/SR 04439) - please see SR 04439 for description.

AA 04390  INTRODUCTION TO AFRICAN AMERICAN RELIGIOUS STUDIES  3 hrs.
This class will introduce students to the academic study of African American religious studies. By engaging in a careful reading of books, essays, and other texts, students in this class will examine the theoretical, methodical, and practical applications that make up African American religious studies.

AA 04338  THE HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF BLACK RELIGION IN AMERICA  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (CH 04338/CM 04338) - please see CH 04338 for description.

AA 04321  THE AFRICAN AMERICAN PROPHETIC RHETORICAL TRADITION  3 hrs.
Students in this survey class will examine the prophetic rhetorical tradition of African Americans. By engaging in a careful reading of texts that make up the African American oratorical and literary canons, students will examine: 1) how the African American prophetic tradition builds, forms, and transforms; 2) how this rhetoric critiques, challenges and charges all of society to live up to the ideals which it espouses; and finally; 3) how speakers adopt a “prophetic persona” in the delivery of their messages. Emphasis will be given to rhetorical strategies used and how these strategies changed and/or remained the same over time. (See Sr 04321)

AA 04296  THE RHETORIC OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (CM 04296/SR 04296/TH 04296) - please see SR 04296 for description.

AA 04193  DIVERSITY AND EVANGELISM: MAKING PLAIN THE SACRED JOURNEY  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 04193 for description.

AA 04179  EYES ON THE PRIZE: AFRICAN AMERICAN RELIGIOUS THOUGHT  3 hrs.
This course examines four important areas in African American religious thought: (1) The problem of religious knowledge, (2) the problem of God, (3) the problem of evil and suffering, and (4) the problem of human fulfillment. The discussion will focus on the ways that African American thinkers (bell hooks, Howard Thurman, James Cone, Delores Williams, and Anthony Pinn) understand and evaluate the meaning of these themes and problems both philosophically and theologically. (See TH 04179).

AA 04094  AFRICAN NARRATIVE THEOLOGY OF INCULTURATION  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (CM 04094/TH 04094) - please see TH 04094 for description.

AA 02151  AFRICAN SPIRITUAL WISDOM THROUGH STORYTELLING, DANCE, DRUMS AND MUSIC 3 hrs.
We Will share our own stories from our lives and our ancestry, and discuss how they illuminate our cultural and spiritual lives. We will also learn ancient dances from Africa: dances for healing, nature, and community life. The course will include cultural and spiritual films that come out of Africa and the African Diaspora. (See TA 02151)

AA 01871  AFRICAN RELIGIONS IN THE DIASPORA 3 hrs.
This course explores the many expressions of African religions in the Diaspora. Students will consider the Arabic, Jewish, Caribbean, Latin and North American religious contexts of displaced Africans. This comparative analysis also focuses on the enduring values, historical, and theological perspectives of transplanted, suppressed, and transformed African religions. (See CM 01871).

AA 01670  AFRICAN CHRISTIANITY 3 hrs.
A study of Christianity in Africa. In January 1997, the course included a three-week immersion experience in Cameroon. (See CM 01670).

AA 01569  AFRICAN AMERICAN WORSHIP & CONGREGATIONAL LIFE 3 hrs.
This course examines the various expressions of African American congregational culture including: worship and preaching, community activism, and lay ministry. (See CM 01569 or WP 01569).

AA 01424  CONTEMPORARY AFROCENTRIC APPROACHES TO BIBLICAL INTERPRETATION 3 hrs.
This course is designed to familiarize students with the variety of approaches to exploring scripture currently being utilized by Black academic biblical scholars on the continent and in the US as well as to ways in which the Black Church and Black popular culture engage the biblical text. (See OT 01424 or CM 01424)

AA 00099  INDEPENDENT STUDIES IN AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES 3 hrs.
Studies in specialized areas as selected by the student and approved by the professor.

AA 00080  M.A.R. THESIS IN AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES 3 hrs.
Students in the Master of Arts (Religion) degree program may choose to complete a master’s thesis in the student’s research area. The thesis will be 50 to 75 pages in length and will be supervised by a professor in that discipline. There will be an oral defense of the thesis when completed. Prerequisite: MA 07548, which may not be taken concurrently.

CHURCH HISTORY

CH 10000  INTRODUCTION TO CHURCH HISTORY 3 hrs.
This course provides an introduction to the principal issues in the study of church history and a survey of church history from apostolic times to the present.

CH 09900  INTRODUCTION TO SPIRITUAL FORMATION 3 hrs.
Students will have the opportunity to explore and deepen their practice of the spiritual life through a combination of reading, dialogue and experiential exercises. The course begins with the biblical basis for “spiritual formation” and then considers how personality effects choice of spiritual disciplines. Classical spiritual disciplines, both personal and communal, will be discussed as well as the need for spiritual guidance within the Christian community. (See TH 09900).

CH 08299  STUDIES IN AMERICAN METHODISM 3 hrs.
A course devoted to selected topics in American Pan-Methodism (e.g., AME, AMEZ, CME & UMC).

CH 08176  SPECIAL STUDY: 20TH CENTURY SAINTS AND MARTYRS 3 hrs.
This course will study the lives of three 20th century Christian leaders: Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Oscar Romero, and Dorothy Day. All three challenged the traditional church to expand its circle to include and minister to outsiders. Their lives, writings, and their political, social, and theological context will be studied to understand the injustices they struggled against, their theological grounding, their dreams of a just society, and their significance to us today. (See CM 08176).

CH 05919  HISPANIC THEOLOGY 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (TH 05919/CM 05919)- please see TH 05919 for description.

CH 05646  THE HOLOCAUST AND ITS ROOTS 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 05646 for description.

CH 05377  PENTECOSTALISM 3 hrs.
This historical sweep will cover Pentecostalism from the Azusa Street Revival, Pentecostalism’s theological foundations, its cultural contributions, issues of race, class, and gender, and the impact of the American Pentecostalism on the global Pentecostal movement. Special attention will be given to Memphis and its role in Pentecostal history, specially as the home of the Church of God in Christ, the largest Pentecostal denomination in America. (See TH 05377)

CH 05301  CHURCH AND SOCIETY IN THE UNITED METHODIST AND AFRICAN-METHODIST TRADITIONS 3 hrs.
This course presents an historical overview of the theological and organizational issues involved in the response of Methodist denominations to social injustice, social problems, and social change. The major portion of the course will cover American Methodist bodies. The United Methodist Church, its antecedent bodies, and the major Methodist groups will be emphasized. (See AA 05301 or CM 05301).
CH 05143 THE DEVELOPMENT OF WESLEYAN THOUGHT 3 hrs.
This course provides a study of the historical development of Wesleyan theology from John Wesley to John B. Cobb and Jose Miguez-Bonino.

CH 05045 ISSUES IN CHURCH RELATIONS WORLDWIDE 3 hrs.
This course explores the relationships of Christian churches to one another in their local community, in the United States and worldwide. In addition to the history of the modern ecumenical movement, the course also reviews relationships among evangelical churches and others that have distanced themselves from their interchurch relations. (See CM 05045).

CH 05043 NEW AMERICAN RELIGIOUS GROUPS 3 hrs.
This course will look at religious groups that have emerged outside the mainstream of American religious tradition with special attention to those presently active in the Mid-South Area. Among those included will be Mormons, Jehovah’s Witnesses, Christian Scientists, the Nation of Islam, the Unification Church, “Hare Krishnas,” and the New Age Movement. (See CM 05043).

CH 04941 WESLEY AND THE POOR 3 hrs.
This course offers students an opportunity to deal with the unmistakable place the poor had in shaping the core of John Wesley’s understanding of Christian belief and practice.

CH 04840 CONTEMPLATIVE PRACTICES IN THE AFRICAN AMERICAN CHURCH 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (AA 04840/TH 04840)- please see AA 04840 for description.

CH 04742 RESEARCH SEMINAR IN CHURCH HISTORY 3 hrs.
The seminar will deal with specific topics of current interest from the historical perspective.

CH 04650 CHURCH AND SACRAMENT 3 hrs.
This course provides a contemporary overview of ecumenical and theological developments in the understanding and history of the Christian Church, the Eucharist, and Baptism in light of the challenges of present day congregational life. Students will be encouraged to develop critical skills for evaluating new and historic models for the church, and become familiar with the variety of cultural settings in which churches exist. The course will include examination of contemporary rituals and sacramental practice, and the role of the pastor as minister of the sacraments.
Prerequisite: CH 10000.

CH 04642 READINGS IN CENTERING PRAYER 3 hrs.
This course will familiarize students with the classic understandings of prayer and focus on the study and practice of centering prayer.

CH 04641 READINGS IN SPIRITUAL THEOLOGY 3 hrs.
Readings in classic texts in spiritual theology selected by the professor and students.

CH 04541 TWO PILLARS OF JUDAISM: SACRED TIME AND SACRED PLACE 3 hrs.

Students will learn to “read” and interpret Jesus films through several dimensions: artistic, literary, historical, and theological. Students will experience several ways in which movies can be used in Christian education settings in the local church.

EM 03322 THE HIDDEN CURRICULUM: EDUCATION FOR JUSTICE 3 hrs.
Issues of race, gender, class and other forms of oppression that operate as implicit or hidden curriculum in the church are examined in this course. Through readings, lectures, multi-media and experiential activities, students will be challenged to confront their own internalized oppression (both subordination and privilege) and that which operates in the churches. Issues will be considered through theological, sociological and educational perspectives.

EM 03251 INTERPLAY: A COMMUNITY-ART APPROACH TO WORSHIP, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL ACTION 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (TA 03251/WP 03251)- please see TA 03251 for description.
EM 03221 FINDING MEANING IN MOVIES 3 hrs.
This course will help students understand how to use movies as a resource for engaging persons in theological thought and conversation. Prerequisites: EM 20000 and TH 10000.

EM 03189 CREATIVE ACTIVITY FOR BIBLE STUDY 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see TA 03189 for description.

EM 03155 EDUCATIONAL MINISTRY WITH ADOLESCENT GIRLS 3 hrs.
The historical, sociological, psychological and theological perspectives of ministry with adolescent girls is considered in this course, which carefully examines the socio-cultural contexts that shape the worldview of adolescents (family, school, peers, media, church, etc.). It will survey sociological and psychological resources that are relevant to adolescent girls (development issues, women's ways of knowing, etc.). The course will also provide the opportunity for students to engage in critical and constructive discussion about the education of adolescent girls in the church. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

EM 03091 THEOLOGY AND EDUCATION 3 hrs.
The purpose of this course is to bring the fields of theology and Christian education into explicit conversation by considering how different contemporary theological perspectives might contribute to forming Christian education theory and practice. The course looks at several different contemporary theologies, a representative Christian educational theorist influenced by each theology, and practical implications for educational ministry. Prerequisites: EM 20000 and TH 10000.

EM 02992 ART AS COMMUNICATION IN EDUCATIONAL MINISTRY 3 hrs.
This course is designed to provide an exploration of arts in educational ministry. Students in this class will study and use a variety of the arts, giving attention to their application in ministry and educational situations. This course requires no previous art experience or expertise. (See TA 02992)

EM 02768 EDUCATION MINISTRY IN THE SMALL CHURCH 3 hrs.
This course covers planning and conducting educational ministry in the church with less than 250 members and with one paid minister, including the rural and the Black church. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

EM 02667 ADULT AND FAMILY LIFE MINISTRY 3 hrs.
This course explores adult faith development, family theory and programs, adult and parenting nurture and instruction. Programs, materials, leaders, organization, administration, and intergenerational ministries and clustering are all examined. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

EM 02566 YOUTH MINISTRY 3 hrs.
Developing and implementing effective youth ministry is the focus of this course. Attention will be given to how sociocultural, psychological, and educational components are considered and used in a theological understanding of youth ministry. The primary focus will be on the church’s ministry with, to, and for youth in rural, urban, and suburban settings. A variety of models of youth ministry will be considered. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

EM 02465 CHILDREN’S MINISTRY 3 hrs.
This course explores nurture and instruction of children in home and church from birth to 12 years. Programs, materials, faith development, leaders, organization and supervision of education ministry with children will be covered. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

EM 02364 CURRICULUM IN THE CHURCH 3 hrs.
The purpose of this course is to prepare pastors, educators, and other leaders in the church for the work of designing Christian education curriculum, evaluating and selecting resources for Christian education programs, and guiding congregations and other church groups in these tasks. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

EM 02189 TEACHING IN THE CHURCH 3 hrs.
This is a basic course which focuses on the nature and purpose of teaching, its theological and educational assumptions, and the skills necessary to be a good teacher in the church. Students will engage in observation, practice, and reflection on teaching. Prerequisite: EM 20000.

ple of faith have been involved in struggles for economic justice that address such issues as the dignity of human labor, social class, organizing workers, and a just workplace. Particular attention will be paid to how ministry may effectively support the dignity of human labor. (See NT 04120).

ET 03995 ETHICS, FAITH, AND CULTURE: ENGAGING THE POWERS 3 hrs.
This is a reading course that focuses on the intersections of ethics, faith, and culture, with a specific emphasis on the themes of dominion, domination, and spiritual warfare. Students will explore the alternatives to radical autonomy, violence, and the systematic perpetration of evil. Prerequisite: OT 10000 or NT 10000. (See TH 03995).

ET 03830 ISSUES IN SCIENCE & RELIGION 3 hrs.
Students preparing for ministry are invited to consider physics and cosmology as partners to the theological enterprise. The central proposition of this course is that the interests of liberation are best served when quantum physics and cosmologies (new and indigenous) contribute to the existing pool of moral, sociological, and theological knowledge. To date, these sciences have not been considered integral to issues of equality, freedom, and social justice. The central course objective is to consider freedom, and social justice by examining (through rhetorical analysis) how quantum and cosmological discourses illuminate the human condition and the yearning for liberation. Through the lens of science and faith, the contours of a flourishing and moral community come into focus. Prerequisites: ET 20000 and TH 10000. (See TH 03830).

ET 03550 RACE, ETHICS & HEALTH: A THEOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVE
This course will explore the application of ethics to a broad range of contemporary public health issues. Students will reflect theologically and critically about the role of the church and society in the development of public policy issues. Students will consider the history of abuse (the Tuskegee experiment); the response to pandemics, i.e., HIV/AIDS; violence as a public health issue among marginalized groups; and future initiatives toward the wellbeing of all people. (See FH 03550).

ET 03438 MOTHERHOOD, WAR AND JUSTICE:
EARLY ETHICAL DRAMAS BY BLACK PLAYWRIGHTS
This is a cross-listed course - please see TA 03438 for description.

ET 03338 DIVERSITY IN THE MID-SOUTH 3 hrs.
In the mid-south, the growth of diverse communities and influx of immigrants are affecting a demographic transformation. As a model for Christians grappling with diversity, this course encourages: encountering the emerging new reality through a one-week live-in experience; listening to the rich legacies of Asian, Hispanic, and Native-Americans; identifying concerns of Asian, Hispanic, and Native Americans living in Memphis; and engaging in ethical and missiological reflections on the process. Prerequisite: ET 20000. (See CM 03338).

ET 03286 AN EXPLORATION OF ENVIRONMENTAL THEOLOGY 3 hrs.
This course surveys how religious and spiritual concerns interface with contemporary environmental issues. The course pays particular attention to the challenge posed to Christian theology by the present ecological situation and offers some salient theological responses to this challenge. Insights from contemporary Christian perspectives will be examined. (See TH 03286).

ET 03268 INTRODUCTION TO BIOETHICS:
CHRISTIAN PERSPECTIVES
This course draws upon the fields of Bioethics and theology to address such issues as genetic determinism vs. human freedom, cloning and the quality and sanctity of life, and other ethical issues raised by the Human Genome Project. Students will have the opportunity to develop a theological and spiritual grounding for responding to the world, human nature, and the ethics of responsibility. Prerequisite: ET 20000. (See TH 03268).

ET 03110 HIP HOP THEOLOGY AND URBAN GOD TALK
This is a cross-listed course - please see AA 03110 for description.
ET 02894  CHRISTIAN APPROACHES TO VIOLENCE AND NONVIOLENCE  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 02894 for a description.

ET 02893  CHRISTIAN POLITICAL THOUGHT  3 hrs.
An analysis of the historical development of Christian political thought. Particular attention is paid to how various Christian understandings of human life have contributed to the understanding and practice of political life. The nature of the person and the church in relation to the state, justice, order, and liberty are among the issues examined.

ET 02892  CHRISTIANITY AND ECONOMIC JUSTICE  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 02892 for description.

ET 02818  FARMING, FOOD AND FAITH: A THEOLOGY AND ETHICS OF AGRICULTURE  3 hrs.
The purpose of human life, the place of community, and our relationship to the land are all manifest in how food is produced and consumed. Today, farming and rural life, along with the production and consumption of food raise a multitude of theological and ethical issues. Our current systems of food production and consumption are environmentally unsustainable and costly to human health and community. In this course we will draw upon Christian theology and ethics to critically examine the dynamics of these current systems, and to explore alternatives that may be encouraged to create a sustainable agriculture, a vibrant rural life, and healthy relationship to food and the land.

ET 02790  SPIRITUALITY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE  3 hrs.
What is the relationship between Christian spirituality and a life committed to social justice? Through a consideration of diverse spiritual practices and case studies of activists in the history of Christianity, we will examine how spiritual practice can inspire a social vision and conscience, respond to social crisis, sustain involvement in social activism, ground people’s dignity, and promote peacemaking and justice. We will also consider how spiritual practice may be misused in the context of activism and the theological and ethical questions surrounding the relationship of spiritual practices and work for social justice.

ET 02789  READINGS IN DISASTER ETHICS: A KATRINA CASE STUDY  3 hrs.
This course is an ethical case study of Katrina, the devastating hurricane that destroyed vast areas of the Gulf Coast and simultaneously uncovered issues of race, class, and poverty in America. Students will engage issues of natural law, theodicy and justice as they consider the testimony of survivors, observers, and government officials.

ET 02778  POVERTY AND JUSTICE  3 hrs.
This study of poverty and homelessness in the United States and in the world is done in light of biblical, theological, and social approaches to economic justice. The class will analyze alternative perspectives on root causes and competing proposals about solutions to poverty and injustice. (See CM 02778).

ET 02654  ETHICAL IMPLICATIONS OF CHRISTIAN LITURGIES  3 hrs.
This course is a study of the ethical implications of the order, elements, and language of liturgies for Christian worship, with special emphasis on contemporary liturgies within the Reformed tradition. (See WP 02654). Prerequisites: ET 20000 and WP 20000.

ET 02456  POVERTY, IMPRISONMENT, AND RESISTANCE THEOLOGY IN ATLANTA: THE OPEN DOOR COMMUNITY  3 hrs.
For over 25 years the Open Door Community in Atlanta, GA has served homeless persons and persons in prison, including death row. The Open Door Community’s work is grounded in its shared communal life based on the Catholic Worker tradition and the traditions of other intentional Christian communities. Through assigned readings, discussion, written reflections, and participation in the life of the Open Door Community we will critically examine many themes of the Christian community and beyond. (See CM 02456)

This is a cross-listed course (ET 19900/PC 19900) - please see ET 19900 for description.

FH 04469
WOMEN’S HEALTH
This course will explore the faith and health dimensions of Women’s Health issues on an individual, congregational, and community scale. The theology of a woman’s spiritual life and health journey through developmental roles and maturity will be reviewed as well as the social issues and determinants that undergird women’s health. Disparities and strategies for overcoming these community scale problems will be explored scripturally. There will be a focus on strategies for pastoral wellness and whole health counseling in women’s issues. (See TH 04469)

This course will invite students to explore the nature of their own spiritual formation and to cultivate an awareness of God’s presence and action in every dimension of life. (See TH 03200)

FORMATION FOR MINISTRY

FM 10108/20108/30108
FORMATION FOR MINISTRY
Spiritual formation for ministry and the integration of theological education with family life, church and the larger community are essential for development as Christian servant leaders. Credit for this class is earned over a period of the first, second and last semesters. This class will help ground participants in covenants of accountability that lead to lifelong theological learning, holy friendships and a set of practices that will sustain pastoral excellence throughout their lives.

Participants will explore major themes of Christian life and leadership, including: Being and Becoming a Beloved Child of God, God's Dream for the World, Wholeness and Health, Building Relationships and Learning to Live in Solidarity With Those Made Poor and/or Marginal in Society, Keeping the Sabbath, Power, Money, Building the Beloved Community, Call, and Discipleship Over the Long Haul. From 2009-2010, participants will be led by the Kalemeris Leadership Team of facilitators and student interns.

MASTER OF ARTS (RELIGION)

MA 07548 M.A.R. INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR 3 hrs.

In all tracks, seminar participants will evaluate and provide responses to others’ work on projects or theses. This seminar will be offered during the fall semester of each academic year with a limited enrollment of 15 students who have successfully completed all introductory coursework. The seminar will be taught by a full-time faculty member. No faculty member may consult with more than two M.A.R. seminar projects per semester.

In this seminar, students will work together and in consultation with the instructor and a faculty member related most closely by training to a student’s area of specialization. For students on the Lay Professional Track, the goal of the seminar is to integrate academic study, theological reflection and praxis. Accordingly, students will design, implement and reflect upon a practicum experience which shall consist of a supervised experiential, ecclesial or community based placement. The seminar may be taken in the next to the last semester of the student’s program (or after the completion of at least 24 semester hours that includes all introductory courses), and will be graded by the seminar leader in the consultation with the appropriate faculty member. For students in the Academic Studies Track, the goal of the seminar is the design, research, and proposal for a thesis. The seminar will be taken in the next to last semester of the student’s program (or after the completion of at least 24 semester hours), and will be graded by the seminar leader in the consultation with the appropriate faculty member. Students in the Deacon Candidacy Track may choose between preparing for the thesis or completing a term project.

NEW TESTAMENT

NT 10000 INTRODUCTION TO INTERPRETING THE NEW TESTAMENT 3 hrs.

This course provides a study of the content and nature of the writings of the New Testament in their historical, cultural, literary, social, political, and canonical contexts in order to gain knowledge and skills in interpreting and appropriating biblical interpretations for modern life.

NT 09530 NEW TESTAMENT AND THE EMERGENCE OF GREEK RHETORIC 3 hrs.

Students will travel to Athens and Corineth, Greece to study the origins of Greek rhetorical tradition, its influence in the development of the New Testament, and its implications for Christian ministry. (See SR 09530).

NT 04120 JESUS WAS A CARPENTER: FAITH PERSPECTIVES ON LABOR AND JUSTICE 3 hrs.

This is a cross-listed course - please see ET 04120 for description.

NT 04019 WOMEN IN THE EARLIEST CHURCHES 3 hrs.

Using the feminist socio-historical methods pioneered by Luise Schottroff and Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza, this course will enable examination of N.T. texts and extra-biblical materials to uncover the roles women played in the ministry of Jesus and in the life of the earliest churches. Students will also have the opportunity to explore the gradual exclusion of women from leadership positions in the church and the implications of their findings for the contemporary church.
Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03918 GOSPEL STORIES OF WOMEN 3 hrs.
This course explores methods and practices of interpretation that allow for a feminist reading and emancipatory assessment of gospel stories of women. Discussion will center on historical-critical and ideology-critical methods of reading these stories, an examination of theoretical frameworks of analysis, and the exploration of the boundaries of historical imagination. Small groups will interpret texts seeking the power those texts offer the contemporary church. Special attention will be given to the significance of feminist biblical interpretation for theological reflection and ministry. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03875 READING AND HEARING THE PARABLES OF JESUS 3 hrs.
This course reads the parables of Jesus in their sociohistorical and sociocultural contexts and brings the distinctive content of their message on the nature of the kind of kingdom of God to which Jesus summons modern hearers/readers to participate to bear on the church. Students will make oral presentations and write papers expressing their own critical evaluations of these parables, and fearlessly join in the daring and dialogical journey of inviting all people to enter the kingdom of God.

NT 03817 THE CATHOLIC EPISTLES AND HEBREWS 3 hrs.
This course examines the place of James, 1 Peter, 2 Peter, Jude, and Hebrews in church history and theology, before interpreting them against their socio-historical background and studying their rhetorical strategy, to uncover their message for today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03715 THE GOSPEL OF MATTHEW 3 hrs.
Interpreting Matthew’s Gospel by giving close attention to its socio-historical background, its distinctive story of Jesus, and the world of discipleship it invites us to enter is the focus of this course. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03602 THE REVELATION OF JOHN 3 hrs.
This course examines the ways the church has interpreted Revelation in its history and the ongoing hermeneutical difficulties surrounding the book, so that students can find and practice ways of interpreting Revelation that are relevant to the church today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03513 NEW TESTAMENT SPIRITUALITY 3 hrs.
Biblical spirituality involves examination of the spirituality within the biblical texts and also the use of biblical texts to nurture our own spirituality. This course pays attention to both aspects of this area of study. By combining contemporary critical methods for interpreting biblical texts with the ancient practice of lectio divina, students explore the spiritualities present in New Testament texts and also wrestle with the gifts and challenges these learnings offer their own lives. Readings for the course include contemporary treatments of New Testament texts alongside the wisdom of past and present spiritual teachers. Students must be willing to practice the discipline of lectio divina throughout the semester. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03412 THE GOSPEL OF MARK 3 hrs.
This course interprets Mark’s Gospel by giving close attention to its socio-historical background, its distinctive story of Jesus, and the world of discipleship it invites us to enter. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03311 THE PRISON EPISTLES 3 hrs.
Interpreting the letters attributed to Paul while he was in prison by examining them in relation to the socio-historical background of the period provides insights from the letters for the church’s life today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

NT 03210 ACTS OF THE APOSTLES 3 hrs.
This course explores interpretation of the book of Acts by examination of the socio-historical background. The relationship and significance of this book for the life and ministry of the Apostle Paul will be examined. Particular emphasis will be placed on his missionary journeys with attention to their meaning for the church today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.
Our focus will be on one of Paul’s last letters, his ‘last will and testament’ to his beloved Philippian congregation, including its incomparable ‘Christ Hymn’ (Phil. 2:6-11). When Paul’s whole career was being marginalized as a sham because of his “shameful” gospel of a “crucified Messiah” that contradicted the “good news” of Empire and its pax Romana, Paul pens one of his most theologically charged, powerful manifestos of the good news of the cross of Christ.

New Testament readings done within contexts other than those dominated by Eurocentric males are the basis of this course. Emphasis will be placed on gaining new insights into the texts and the significance of their hermeneutics. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

This course examines the stories and theology of Christ’s resurrection and its impact on Christian living as presented in the New Testament in order to understand its meaning for Christians today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

Interpreting John’s Gospel by giving close attention to its socio-historical background, its distinctive story of Jesus, and the world of discipleship it invites us to enter is the focus of this course. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

This course examines interpretation of Paul’s letter to the Romans by understanding its socio-historical background, its great theological themes, its place in the history of the church, and its meaning for Christians today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

Interpreting Luke’s Gospel by giving close attention to its socio-historical background, its distinctive story of Jesus, and the world of discipleship it invites us to enter is the focus of this course. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

This course focuses on interpreting Ephesians by examination of its socio-historical background, its relationship to other Pauline letters, its theological issues, and the rhetorical strategy of its author so that we may appropriate it for the church today. Prerequisites: NT 10000, NT 00395 and NT 00396.

Interpreting Galatians so that our understanding of the historical questions, the great theological debates of the early church, and the relevance of these for the church today is enhanced is the focus of this course. Students may elect to take this as a Greek track course. Prerequisites: NT 10000, NT 00395 and NT 00396.

This course focuses on interpreting Paul’s letters to the church at Corinth through familiarity with the socio-historical background of the times and with Paul’s rhetorical strategy, in order to grasp the message of the letters for the church today. Prerequisite: NT 10000.

This course will introduce modern methods of biblical theology and explore themes and issues central to each of the New Testament writers. Themes and issues for examination will include the New Testament and the postcolonial theory, economic and contextual theology. Presentations and discussions on major New Testament theologians, theological themes and issues will enable students to fearlessly join in the daring journey of doing theology for the people of God. Prerequisites: NT

<td>The aim of this seminar is to explore the possibilities and problems of considering the diverse materials of the Hebrew Bible in a systematic manner. Students will be expected to read extensively from the work of Old Testament theologians. Efforts will be made to relate Israel’s faith to contemporary issues in a way that allows the biblical material to serve theologically as the “Old Testament” for Christians and as an affirmation of faith for non-Christians. Prerequisite: OT 10000.</td>

</table>
This course will study the books of Proverbs, Job, Ecclesiastes and the Apocryphal books of Ecclesiasticus (Ben Sirach), and the Wisdom of Solomon with an eye toward their literary forms as well as their theological and anthropological statements. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02634
THE PSALMS
3 hrs.
The formation of the Psalter, the various types of psalms, their setting in Israel’s life and worship, the religion reflected by the psalms, and the poetry of the psalms will be studied. Attention will be given to the continuing significance of the psalms for contemporary faith and practice. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02532
HEBREW PROPHETS II
3 hrs.
This course will study the prophets of the Babylonian Period (e.g., Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Isaiah 40-55). Special attention will be given to hearing the prophets’ messages in light of their historical setting and our own setting as well. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02431
HEBREW PROPHETS I
3 hrs.
The prophets of the Assyrian Period (e.g., Amos, Hosea, Micah, Isaiah 1-39) are the focus of this course. Special attention will be given to hearing the prophets’ messages in light of their historical setting as well as our own setting. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02330
BOOKS OF SAMUEL
3 hrs.
This study of 1 and 2 Samuel will consider the historical, literary (especially narrative), and theological dimensions of the two books. Issues of appropriating the material for today will be addressed. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02329
RACE, CLASS, GENDER AND ETHNICITY IN SCRIP TURE
3 hrs.
This course examines the theological crisis of the marginalized prevalent in modern American society. Particular themes such as race, class, sexuality and ethnicity are intrinsically part of the American Christian psyche, yet at the same time spurned theologically. Alternative approaches to reading and understanding Christian scripture will be emphasized with the aim of challenging modern so-called normative ways of reading. This course will engage in a debate concerning the responsibility of the church and its theology in juxtaposition to the marginalized within society as a whole.

OT 02229
THE BOOKS OF RUTH AND ESTHER
3 hrs.
The class will engage in a careful reading of Ruth and Esther, informed by literary studies and feminist readings of biblical texts. The relationships among the rhetoric of the text, the reader, and theological meaning will be explored. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02126
THE PENTATEUCH
3 hrs.
A study of the emergence of the people of Israel as presented in the first five books of the Bible is the focus of this course. Formation of the Pentateuch, major traditions and themes of each book, and methodological issues in interpretation and appropriation will be covered. Prerequisite: OT 10000.

OT 02069
THE BOOK OF GENESIS
3 hrs.
This course is designed to teach exegetical method using historical critical and literary and ideological critical methods, while at the same time it is also designed to familiarize the students with the literature of the Book of Genesis.

OT 01921
FAITH AND HOPE IN THE INTERBIBLICAL PERIOD: READING
THE LITERATURE THAT SHAPED JUDAISM
AND THE NEW TESTAMENT
3 hrs.
This course is a selective survey of the history and theology of the Apocryphal/Deuterocanonical Books. Students are expected to read from both primary and secondary texts. Themes and issues for examination include faith and hope, ethnocentrism, colonization/imperialism, justice and freedom in the Interbiblical Period as well as in the life of the church today. Prerequisite: OT1000.
OT 01911  THE DEAD SEA SCROLLS AND THE BIBLE  3 hrs.
2007 marks the 60th anniversary of the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls. Since their discovery, its literary content has further clarified and unraveled some unknown biblical theology and late Second Temple Jewish culture, which covers the time during which Jesus was engaged in ministry. This course will focus on the significance and use of literature from the Dead Sea Scrolls and late Second Temple Period in the exegetical process.

OT 01424  CONTEMPORARY AFROCENTRIC APPROACHES TO BIBLICAL INTERPRETATION  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (CM 01424/AA 01424)- please see AA 01424 for description.

OT 00424  BIBLICAL HEBREW II  3 hrs.
Continued work with grammar, syntax, and vocabulary. Approximately half of the semester will be devoted to reading from the Hebrew Bible. Prerequisite: OT 00323.

OT 00323  BIBLICAL HEBREW I  3 hrs.
An introduction to the grammar and syntax of biblical Hebrew. Limited exercises in reading from the Hebrew Bible.

OT 00099  INDEPENDENT STUDIES IN OLD TESTAMENT  3 hrs.
Studies in specialized areas as selected by the student and approved by the professor.

OT 00080  M.A.R. THESIS IN OLD TESTAMENT  3 hrs.
Students in the Master of Arts (Religion) degree program may choose to complete a master's thesis in the student's research area. The thesis will be 50 to 75 pages in length and will be supervised by a professor in that discipline. There will be an oral defense of the thesis when completed. Prerequisite: MA 07548, which may not be taken concurrently.

PASTORAL CARE

PC 20000  INTRODUCTION TO PASTORAL CARE  3 hrs.
This course introduces students to pastoral care in the parish context. Development of relational skills and pastoral assessment from theological and psychological perspectives are emphasized. Selected areas of human life and suffering often encountered by pastors and congregations are studied. Students should have a ministry setting from which cases can be drawn.

PC 19900  INTRODUCTION TO CONGREGATIONAL HEALTH AND WHOLENESS  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (ET 19900/FH 19900)- please see ET 19900 for description.

PC 04396  TRAUMA AND RECOVERY  3 hrs.
This course will examine multiple aspects of trauma, first hand accounts, immediate and long-term effects, and theological and cultural perspectives. Likewise, it will also explore the roles of religious leaders and community organizations in the recuperation process. Specific traumatic events that may be discussed include domestic violence, child abuse, rape, torture, hate crimes, racism, genocide and natural disasters. (See FH 04396)

PC 04355  PASTORAL CARE, THE CHURCH AND DIS/ABILITY  3 hrs.
Dis/ability may occur at any time throughout the life span, from before birth to older adulthood. Dis/ability comes in many forms - physical (e.g., multiple sclerosis, spinal cord injury), psychiatric (e.g., depression, schizophrenia), and cognitive (e.g., developmental dis/abilities, Alzheimer's disease). Course participants will examine the experience of dis/ability in conversation with cultural assumptions, Christian traditions and pastoral practice. Participants will also explore avenues of pastoral care that may be offered to individuals (with or without dis/abilities) and communities around dis/ability issues. Prerequisite: PC 20000.
PC 04254  PASTORAL CARE AND ADDICTIONS  3 hrs.
This course facilitates the development of a theology of pastoral care of persons with addictions (primarily substance abuse) for use in the parish ministry. The course will cover different types of psychoactive substances and the concept of addiction; show how family dysfunction, shame and substance abuse are often related; develop a coherent theology of recovery utilizing Christian theology and the twelve-step tradition; and address pastoral concerns regarding the practical application of these theological insights in the practice of parish ministry.

PC 04178  MARY, MYSTICS AND MARTYRS: MODELS AND MENTORS OF THE FAITH  3 hrs.
This seminar focuses on the “Faith of our fathers (and mothers) living still.” Students will explore Christian models of spirituality and will supplement their reformed theologies with a focus on the role of Mary, mother of Jesus, and her living legacy; the classical and continuing contributions of mystics and martyrs. There will be a focus on Howard Thurman, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Thomas Merton, and Mother Teresa of Calcutta. (See CH 04178).

PC 04080  PASTORAL CARE AND PREACHING  3 hrs.
This course explores the relationship between preaching and pastoral care, primarily through exploration of the sermon as a pastoral theological endeavor. How preaching is pastoral on a theological level, and how sermons address pastoral themes, are the guiding questions of the course. Prerequisites: PC 20000 and WP 10000.

PC 03971  LIFE CYCLE ISSUES AND PASTORAL CARE  3 hrs.
The normal challenges and crises persons usually encounter over their lifetimes will be examined in this course, from psychological and theological perspectives. Students will reflect on ways in which pastoral caregivers can help persons respond meaningfully to those life cycle changes.

PC 03870  PASTORAL CARE IN TIMES OF GRIEF AND LOSS  3 hrs.
This course will examine the various aspects of grief and loss from psychological and theological perspectives, including the process, dynamics, stages, and behaviors of grief and loss, the needs of the bereaved, and the process of pastoral care in times of grief and loss. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 03766  AFRICAN AMERICAN PASTORAL CARE  3 hrs.
This course will explore the history, theology, and practices of pastoral care that are unique to the African American church, with particular focus upon the way in which African American care within the church has blended the pastoral and prophetic dimensions of ministry in response to social context. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 03641  PASTORAL CARE WITH WOMEN  3 hrs.
This course will examine women-centered theories of care and the theologies that shape and are shaped by those theories. It will explore psychological, sociological, spiritual, and cultural perspectives of women’s experience. It will focus on issues of concern to women and appropriate pastoral responses. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 03569  PASTORAL CARE FOR STEPFAMILIES  3 hrs.
This course helps with the development of pastoral care skills to assist parishioners in negotiating the stages of the stepfamily experience, responding creatively to its challenges and gaining a clearer understanding of the presence of the Divine in the lives and experiences of stepfamilies.

PC 03568  PASTORAL CARE OF FAMILIES  3 hrs.
Case studies, role plays, and small group activity will be utilized in this course, which offers an explanation of theological and family systems perspectives in the pastoral care of families. Particular attention is given to issues surrounding marriage and divorce. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 03320  GROUP PROCESS AND LEADERSHIP SKILLS  3 hrs.
This course will help students develop basic skills in group process in order to provide more effective leadership in the church. Special focus will be on groups for spiritual care, nurture, and growth.
An experience of working in and leading groups will be a key component of this course. Prerequisite: PC 20000. (See EM 03320).

PC 03222 THE PASTORAL CARE MINISTRY OF THE CONGREGATION 3 hrs.
This course explores the congregation as the basis for the ongoing ministry of Christian pastoral care. Congregational responses to typical situation of human suffering and need, and the role of the pastor in, such situations, will guide the course. Students will examine various models of congregational pastoral care that can be used in the ministry of the church. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 03164 CONGREGATIONAL CONFLICT & PASTORAL CARE 3 hrs.
This course provides a theological and psychological exploration of the dynamics of congregational conflict and a survey of appropriate pastoral responses. Conflict management skills will be taught through lectures, case studies, simulations, and discussion. Care will be taken to respect the integrity and confidentiality of all persons.

PC 02810 HEALING BEYOND LIMITATIONS: THE CHURCH AS AN INTENTIONAL HEALING COMMUNITY 3 hrs.
This course focuses on the vital role the faith community plays in the wellbeing of our bodies and spirits through an understanding of a theology of healing and its implications for the wholeness of persons beyond a cure. Attention will be given to the historical perspective of the Church as a healing community, the role of the faith community both as healer and as recipient of healing, and the place of prayer, presence, blessing, ritual and story in the healing process.

PC 02761 PASTORAL CARE IN INSTITUTIONAL SETTINGS 3 hrs.
Students in this course will be introduced to pastoral care in institutions such as churches, hospice, prisons, acute care hospitals, and psychiatric wards. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the function of pastoral care and the unique position of each institution in its administrative, personnel, and residential dimensions. The goal is to carry out effective ministry in each setting. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 02659 PASTORAL CARE AND HUMAN SEXUALITY 3 hrs.
This course examines the place of human sexuality in self-understanding and the biblical/theological/ethical/psychological influences affecting sexual attitudes, development, and function as these matters relate to pastoral care in the local church. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 02550 PASTORAL CARE IN THE AGING COMMUNITY 3 hrs.
The responsibility of the church as it addresses aging in contemporary society is the focus of this course. Main concerns will include the unique gifts and challenges in the aging community; pastoral care skills in meeting these challenges; healing elements for continued ministry among the 3rd, 4th, and 5th generations; community resourcing; and ways to help extended families address aging concerns more constructively. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 02457 PASTORAL CARE IN TIMES OF CRISIS 3 hrs.
This course explores pastoral care in times of crisis such as despair, suicide, bereavement, divorce, AIDS, physical/sexual abuse, substance abuse, etc. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 02375 “I’M ALL EARS!”: LISTENING (AND OTHER) SKILLS IN PASTORAL COUNSELING 3 hrs.
Religious leaders are called upon to provide short-term counseling for persons with specific concerns. Essential skills for brief counseling include learning to listen, assessing needs, offering appropriate responses, and recognizing limits of time and knowledge. This course will focus on skill building, personality theories, spiritual development, and strategies for short-term counseling. Methods may include didactics, discussion, case studies, theological reflection, verbatim, and role plays.

PC 02357 MINISTRY WITH ANXIOUS AND DEPRESSED PERSONS 3 hrs.
This course will begin to educate theological students regarding the nature, symptoms and treatment of anxiety and depressive disorders. Students will explore how personal anxiety and depression can contribute to congregational conflict and develop tools for managing the resulting conflict. This course will provide resources to help the theological student become increasingly aware of his/her own anxiety, how his/her ministry is impacted and how to control and/or alleviate it appropriately.

PC 02108 PASTORAL CARE AND PERSONALITY THEORY 3 hrs.
This introduction to theories of humanity and person-hood seeks to interrelate psychological, theological, and ethical understandings. Basic methods and skills of pastoral care of persons will be explored. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 01756 PASTORAL CARE & PASTORAL RITES 3 hrs.
This course is designed to help students integrate classroom knowledge, pastoral care, and the practice of the Sacraments. The course requires students to develop a theology of pastoral care and worship, and then work together to plan for the practice of baptism, communion, marriage, burial, reconciliation, and ministry to the sick in the day-to-day life of a Christian community.

PC 01755 RITUAL AND PASTORAL CARE 3 hrs.
This course is a study of the pastoral dimensions of ritual in the lives of individuals and Christian congregations, including Christian worship, weddings, funerals, and other sacred events. The construction and practice of pastoral liturgies will be included as part of the course. Prerequisites: PC 20000 and WP 20000. (See WP 01755).

PC 01665 PASTORAL CARE THEMES IN CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE AND FILM 3 hrs.
This course focuses on contemporary short stories, novels, and films as they portray situations involving pastoral care. Depiction of the pastor, the role of the congregation in pastoral care, cultural context, and the thematization of human need will all be considered in the course as fruitful avenues of inquiry into the ministry of Christian pastoral care. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 01554 MAJOR FIGURES IN 20TH CENTURY PASTORAL CARE 3 hrs.
Significant writers and practitioners in 20th century pastoral care are the focus of this course. It includes the life and thought of Anton Boisen, Carrol Wise, Wayne Oates, Seward Hiltner, Don Browning, Charles Gerkin, and others.

PC 01353 ADVANCED CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION 6 hrs.
This period of full-time training is between six and twenty-four months with at least six months in one institution. Judgment of the length of time needed is arrived at from a review of competence, knowledge, and experience. Students seeking full-time chaplaincy should consider this program. Often it is taken following graduation, and stipends are usually available from the institution offering the program. Prerequisite: PC 01350.

PC 01350 CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION 6 hrs.
Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is an intensive course of chaplaincy training provided by a certified clinical pastoral educator through a licensed center of Clinical Pastoral Education. Most CPE centers are located in hospitals, although other sites are sometimes CPE approved (parish settings, retirement homes, etc.). Two Memphis institutions currently offer CPE (Veterans Administration Hospital and Methodist Hospital). CPE provides helpful pastoral care training for parish ministry, chaplaincy ministry, and for advanced programs in pastoral theology and pastoral counseling beyond the M.Div. Students wishing to enroll in CPE should speak with the professor of pastoral care for further information. One full unit of CPE consists of 400 hours of work and supervision in the clinical setting. PC 01350 may be taken as an alternative to the PC 01151 requirement. Prerequisite: PC 01350.

PC 01251 CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION INTRODUCTION 3 hrs.
See PC 01350 for course description. This course, constituting 1/2 unit of CPE credit is only offered by certain CPE centers and consists of 200 hours of work and supervision in the clinical setting. PC 01251 may be taken as an alternative to the PC 01151 requirement. Prerequisite: PC 20000.
PC 01151  CLINICAL PRACTICUM  3 hrs.
This practicum involves doing pastoral care under supervision in an institutional setting. Students are required to perform 6 hours of clinical work and group reflection per week. Possible settings include a medical center, an acute care hospital, a children's hospital, a parish-based counseling center, a home for senior adults, and a program for the homeless. This practicum is not a substitute for CPE, but it can provide a helpful orientation to CPE. A unit of CPE can be taken as an alternative requirement. Prerequisite: PC 20000.

PC 00099  INDEPENDENT STUDIES IN PASTORAL CARE  3 hrs.
Studies in specialized areas as selected by the student and approved by the professor.

PC 00080  M.A.R. THESIS IN PASTORAL CARE  3 hrs.
Students in the Master of Arts (Religion) degree program may choose to complete a master's thesis in the student's research area. The thesis will be 50 to 75 pages in length and will be supervised by a professor in that discipline. There will be an oral defense of the thesis when completed.

PARISH MINISTRY

PM 10000  CHRISTIAN MINISTRY  3 hrs.
This course is an introduction to the seminary experience and a review of pastoral ministry in relation to the ministry of all Christians.

PM 04350  DEVELOPING A CELTIC SPIRITUALITY  3 hrs.
This study of spirituality of the Celtic Christians explores means by which this spirituality may be integrated into Christian life today. (See CM 04350).

PM 04237  SPIRITUAL THEOLOGY AND PARISH MINISTRY  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CH 04237 for description.

PM 04105  ENGAGING THE CITY: URBAN THEOLOGY  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 04105 for description.

PM 03420  USING MEDIA IN MINISTRY  3 hrs.
This course will focus on media and ministry, with a particular emphasis on television, radio, newspapers, and magazines. Students will explore the use of varied technologies and public relations strategies for church communities including audio visuals, DVDs, CDs, newsletters, and dramatic skits. Students can expect a workshop type environment which will include lectures, guest speakers, group projects, panel discussions and field trips.

PM 03313  THE DOCTRINE AND POLITY OF THE CHRISTIAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH  3 hrs.
This course will introduce students to the foundations of the Methodist doctrine and orient them to the polity of the Christian Methodist Church. Students will relate doctrine and polity to the practices of the Church's ministry at its varied levels. This course will encompass a historical overview of the birth of Methodism; the subsequent birth of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and the development of doctrine and polity of the CME Church.

PM 03212  UNITED METHODIST POLITY  2 hrs.
This course is a study of the organization, constitution, government, and administration of the United Methodist Church at all levels of the connection.

PM 03111  CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN POLITY AND PROGRAM  3 hrs.
The constitution, digest, and other resources on the government, organization, and program of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is the focus of this course.

PM 02879  LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT FOR MINISTRY: SPIRITUAL PRACTICES AND THEORIES  3 hrs.
In this course, we will reflect critically upon the theory and practice of leadership, with an emphasis on leadership that begins from within.
PM 02869  CHURCH MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT 3 hrs.
This course is a study of integrated church management and church leadership development in the 21st century in American Protestant Churches with emphasis on the mid-south region.

PM 02682  REVITALIZING THE LOCAL CHURCH 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 02682 for description.

PM 02596  MONEY, MARKETS AND MINISTRY 3 hrs.
The purpose of this course will be to introduce basic economic theory, how economic reality impacts the work of ministry in parish and non-parish settings, and how pastors can effectively work within the economic system to fund ministry, engage persons in exercising Christian responsibility to care for the poor, and exercise fiduciary responsibility in leadership.

PM 02506  SERVANT LEADERSHIP 3 hrs.
Christian servant leadership is a calling that involves both an inward and outward journey of faith, a journey that inevitably leads to what Henri Nouwen referred to as “voluntary displacement.” This is a class in spiritual formation in which we will seek not only to learn about, but also to lean into, the call of Christian servant leadership.

PM 02425  THE CHURCH AS A NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION 3 hrs.
This course begins with a survey of biblical and theological understandings and organization and what it means to be “church” and moves toward the application of essential components of mission and vision, administration, management, finance, working with volunteers, and other aspects important for non-profit organizations. The course culminates in the presentation of a group project designed to provide experience and reflection on the practical aspects of organizational management in the local church.

PM 02405  CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP 3 hrs.
This course explores the theology and practice of stewardship of all of life - including financial stewardship in the local church.

PM 02244  EVANGELISM THROUGH NEW CHURCH DEVELOPMENT 3 hrs.
Foundations and strategies for church planting will be explored, along with call and characteristics of new church planters. Area ministers of several denominations involved in new churches will visit the class and discuss their experiences. (See CM 02244).

PM 02109  MINISTRY AMONG AT RISK CHILDREN 3 hrs.
An introduction to theoretical and practical ministry among children at risk in the United States. Students will become familiar with issues surrounding children through 17 years of age in regard to their and their family’s interaction with juvenile court systems, mental health services, school disciplinary programs, alternative education, and models of clinical-pastoral ministry in cooperation with family and religious community. The biblical basis of ministry among children and the promise of the Restorative Justice movement will also be examined.

PM 02104  THE PASTOR’S ROLE 3 hrs.
This course provides special studies in parish ministry as it relates to the day-to-day activities of an active parish. Consideration is given to many practical responses to the needs of the local church as well as the local pastor, such as building programs, time management, etc.

PM 01514  COVENANT DISCIPLESHIP IN THE LOCAL CHURCH 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CH 01514 for description.

PM 01201  COVENANT GROUP LEADERS’ PRACTICUM 0 hrs.
This study of the nature and purpose of seminary covenant groups includes methods of group leadership and coordination. Participants are selected by the faculty.

PM 01100  SUPERVISED PARISH PRACTICUM 3 hrs.

~94~
This field-based practicum focuses on the pastor’s role in relating to the congregation’s faith, tradition, and embodiment of Christian community. Field supervisor and field setting must be pre-approved. Prerequisite: PM 10000.

PM 00099 INDEPENDENT STUDIES IN PARISH MINISTRY 3 hrs.
Studies in specialized areas as selected by the student and approved by the professor.

PM 00080 M.A.R. THESIS IN PARISH MINISTRY 3 hrs.
Students in the Master of Arts (Religion) degree program may choose to complete a master’s thesis in the student’s research area. The thesis will be 50 to 75 pages in length and will be supervised by a professor in that discipline. There will be an oral defense of the thesis when completed. Prerequisite: MA 07548, which may not be taken concurrently.

SACRED RHETORIC

SR 09530 NEW TESTAMENT AND THE EMERGENCE OF GREEK RHETORIC 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see NT 09530 for a description.

SR 04439 THE RISE OF INDEPENDENT AFRICAN AMERICAN CHURCHES AND DENOMINATIONS 3 hrs.
This course is a sequel to CH 04338. Its focus is upon the Christianizing of Black religion and the development of its church institutions both within, and independent of, white churches. (See AA 04439, CH 04439 or CM 04439)

SR 04430 IN THE BEGINNING WAS THE WORD: SACRED RHETORIC: THEORY AND PRACTICE 3 hrs.
Students in this survey class will examine sacred rhetoric from classical times to the present. By engaging in a careful reading of books, essays, and other texts, students will examine (1) how early theologians and sacred rhetoricians used the secular art of rhetoric in their formations of theology; (2) how an understanding of sacred rhetoric broadens the scope of language; and finally (3) how the use of the sacred formulate arguments and ideology.

SR 04396 RHETORIC OF RACE 3 hrs.
This course includes a careful reading of major sermons, speeches, and writings on race in the United States with particular reference to the 1960’s. Building from an analysis of theories of communications and how to mobilize social movements, students will examine the contribution of significant persons to public expressions of Christian faith. Life stories, civil religion, use of the Bible and of other sources will provide a basis for reflection upon issues in contemporary public theology. This course overlaps with but does not include material covered in CM 04296, The Rhetoric of Martin Luther King, Jr. (See CM 04396 or TH 04396)

SR 04321 THE AFRICAN AMERICAN PROPHETIC RHETORICAL TRADITION 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see AA 04321 for description.

SR 04296 THE RHETORIC OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. 3 hrs.
A careful reading of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.’s sermons, speeches and writings in context provide the basis of this seminar, which is taught collaboratively with the University of Memphis Department of Communication. (See CM 04296, AA 04296 or TH 04296)

SR 04252 THE SACRED RHETORIC OF AFRICAN AMERICAN WOMEN 3 hrs.
This course examines the legacy of racial and gender liberation and activism found in the preaching, call narratives, literature, and public addresses of African women who claimed their voices on North American soil. These voices that bring to bare sacred rhetoric--apologetics, testimony, and resistance as it relates to sacred literature and the life of the church and African American community-building--are significant to that heritage. These women stand in the tradition of radical prophets, and sometimes cultural accomodationists. (See Th 04252 or WP 04252)

SR 03220 GRACE AND DISCIPLINE: THE ART OF WRITING POETRY 3 hrs.
The purpose of this course is to provide participants with the opportunity to write poetry in conversation with the larger community of poets, both living and dead. Students will read poems, try their hand at writing poems that will enable them to learn more about themselves, and they will study the creative process in general, the art of revision and what poetry may or may not have to do with God and the revelation of God. No previous art experience necessary. (See TA 03220)

SR 03110 HIP HOP THEOLOGY AND URBAN GOD TALK 3 hrs.
This course focuses on the religious, discursive, cultural and aesthetic aspects of hip hop and urban God-talk. Students will engage the hip hop genre, not just as a mode of entertainment, but also as a medium of communication, which impacts, represents and misrepresents urban theologies. (See AA 03110 or ET 03110)

SR 01875 PERFORMANCE AND PULPIT RHETORIC 3 hrs.
This course will explore the oral presentation of texts to congregations. Language will be explored as it relates to meaningful transmissions of the message. The class will focus on articulation, interpretation, embodiment and intent. Accordingly, the class will utilize theatre and acting techniques designed to strengthen vocal/speech clarity, body awareness, as well as body language awareness. (See TA 01875 or WP 01875)

THEOLOGY AND ARTS

TA 05702 THE MARRIAGE OF MICAH AND THE MUSE: 3 hrs. COUPLING OF PROPHETIC VISION AND ARTISTIC IMAGINATION
This course explores the biblical prophetic paradigm in conversation with the western aesthetic tradition. Students will consider the prophetic role in ministry through artistic imagination. The hermeneutical approach will be interdisciplinary and will explore the role of the minister as “social critic.”

TA 05547 “GONNA CHANGE MY WAY OF THINKING”: 3 hrs. BOB DYLAN ON THE BIBLE, SIN AND VIRTUE
This course proposes to look at how Bob Dylan used biblical references in his lyrics as an artist, his vision of sin, and his understanding of virtue. Special consideration will be given to his “Christian albums” for their soteriological content. A multimedia approach will be taken, using musical recordings, documentaries, and taped interviews. Class participants will also be encouraged to prepare musical performances of Dylan’s works. (See TH 05547)

TA 04219 INTRODUCTION TO EARLY CHRISTIAN ART 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CH 04219 for description.

TA 03564 READINGS IN BLACK THEATER AND THEOLOGY: 3 hrs. THE AMEN CORNER
This is a cross-listed course - please see AA 03564 for description.

TA 03438 MOTHERHOOD, WAR AND JUSTICE:3 hrs. EARLY ETHICAL DRAMAS BY BLACK PLAYWRIGHTS
In the early 20th century, just before, during, and just after World War One, a number of black women writers posed in their dramatic works ethical questions about motherhood and war within the larger context of justice, or more specifically, social justice. Accordingly, this workshop course is designed to examine the ethical and theological implications of four plays written by three historical black women authors. (See AA 03438 or ET 03438)

TA 03318 ART ACTIVISM 3 hrs.
This course exposes students to specific, bi-partisan, world issues of health, wholeness, justice, and equality. Students will become acquainted with and create their own personal and ensemble performing are, including song writing, movement, poetry, drama and speech.
The aim of this class is to study the multifaceted and changing nature of art and visual culture in northern Europe just prior to and during the Reformation period. By examining primary and secondary texts of artists, theologians, and publishers in conjunction with various visual productions, students will witness the divergent ways in which art was praised and damned, employed and destroyed.

TA 03251 INTERPLAY: A COMMUNITY-ART APPROACH TO WORSHIP, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL ACTION 3 hrs.
InterPlay is deep fun and surprisingly revolutionary. It creates democracy and freedom between bodies of people. It is an inspiringly simple systematic tool-set that leads people to tell their own stories, move as they are moved, sing and be still. InterPlay is a philosophy and spiritual practice used by individuals and groups in many contexts: chaplaincy, worship, therapy, social action, business and education. The five-day class includes a balance of presentation, experiential practices, conversation and reflection. (See EM 03251 or WP 03251)

TA 03220 GRACE AND DISCIPLINE: THE ART OF WRITING POETRY 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see SR 03220 for description.

TA 03189 CREATIVE ACTIVITY FOR BIBLE STUDY 3 hrs.
This course explores and analyzes the character/make-up of chosen biblical figures. The course is designed to take the “tried and true” Bible study curriculum to the next level. Utilizing techniques that actors are taught, the student will learn the fundamentals of character analysis. The goal is to provide additional interactive ways to explore the biblical texts while deepening the students’ understanding and creating a personal connection with the figures studied. (See EM 03189)

TA 03181 THEOLOGY AND ARTS INSTITUTE: “THE RETURN BEAT” 3 hrs.
This is a two-week institute on the arts in worship for clergy, laity, and seminarians. Seminarians receive 3-hour course credit for work successfully completed. This course explores a theology of arts in worship through examining the role of art to lead us into understanding and knowing God; and hands-on workshops in which practitioners of art forms will help lead students, and help students practice ways to incorporate art appropriately into the worship life of a congregation. (See EM 03181)

TA 03066 THEOLOGY AND WILLIE NELSON 3 hrs.
Students in this course will explore the relationship between theology and the arts. Focus will be given to the music and lyrics of Willie Nelson. Students will reflect on the manner in which his songs inform and stimulate theological thinking, particularly in the Christian tradition. Various themes to be explored are: “the nature of our existence”; “the meaning of gifts”; “beginnings and endings”; “the possibilities for relationships”; “the significance of our personhood”; “the reality of death.” (See TH 03066)

TA 02992 ART AS COMMUNICATION IN EDUCATIONAL MINISTRY 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see EM 02992 for description.

TA 02420 THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY CHURCH MUSICIAN 3 hrs.
This foundational course is to develop an understanding of the theology of church music and its implications for the twenty-first century church musician. Attention will be given to the historical development of church music, the role of the church musician in the planning and implementation of diversity in worship and the relationship between the church musician and the minister; how this relationship can enhance or hinder the twenty-first century worship experiences. (See WP 02420).

WORSHIP AND PREACHING

Courses with a preaching element carry a superscript symbol (†).

WP 20000  THEOLOGY OF WORSHIP AND PREACHING  3 hrs.
A survey of the biblical, historical, and theological traditions that define and support preaching and worship in the Christian church. The section on worship will give attention to the traditions that shape sacramental liturgies.

WP 04252  THE SACRED RHETORIC OF AFRICAN AMERICAN WOMEN  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (TH 04252/SR 04252)- please see SR 04252 for description.

WP 03945  UNITED METHODIST BOOK OF WORSHIP  3 hrs.
The United Methodist Book of Worship is surveyed in this course, with emphasis on the theological and liturgical implications of leading and forming worship in a variety of congregational contexts. Specific focus will be put on the Christian year, the sacraments, and the theological signals communicated when presiding.

WP 03888  CONTEMPORARY TRENDS IN CHRISTIAN WORSHIP  3 hrs.
This course explores new trends in Christian worship that have emerged in American religious culture over the past 20 years. Through the method of mutual critical correlation, the traditions of Christian worship will be brought into dialogue with postmodern culture, leading to theological reflection on these trends. Models of new worship practices will be introduced and explored. Participants will be given opportunities to engage in various worship styles and design services for particular settings. Prerequisite: WP 20000

WP 03786†  PREACHING OLD TESTAMENT READINGS OF THE LECTIONARY  3 hrs.
This course examines the role and resource that the Hebrew bible texts provide for the preacher and the congregation, especially as it relates to the interpretative event. Students will learn ways to enter the text on its own merits, and to engage the text in their contemporary context. The main source of Psalms and other Hebrew biblical texts will be the Common Lectionary in the appropriate year. This course is a complement to WP 02114 which teaches the Gospel readings. (See OT 03786).

WP 03605†  PREACHING AS CELEBRATION: AFRICAN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVE  3 hrs.
This course explores the distinct perspective and genius the African American church has brought to the preaching task, and the role of celebration in the African American pulpit. (See AA 03605).

WP 03253†  PREACHING FROM THE PROPHETS  3 hrs.
This course will help students explore the Book of the Twelve (Minor Prophets) as a source of Christian preaching and to examine the role and nature of the modern prophetic voice in contemporary preaching. Students will choose a source text and make hermeneutic decisions for the task of preaching. Prerequisite: WP 20000 or OT 10000. (See OT 03253).

WP 03251  INTERPLAY: A COMMUNITY-ART APPROACH TO WORSHIP, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL ACTION  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (EM 03251/TA 03251)- please see TA 03251 for description.

WP 03181  THEOLOGY AND ARTS INSTITUTE: “THE RETURN BEAT”  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see TA 03181 for description.

WP 03165  REFORMED WORSHIP  3 hrs.
In this course students explore the history and theology of worship in the Reformed Tradition in relationship to the larger Christian worship traditions. Attention is given to the particular emphasis of Reformed Worship during its history, and the meaning of these expressions for Reformed churches today.
WP 03151  MULTICULTURAL WORSHIP  3 hrs.
This course explores in depth the theological and practical implications of worshipping in a culturally conscious way. Students will explore their own biases and prejudices, “exegete” their contexts by trying to see how diverse even the most homogeneously-looking congregation is, then plan and present worship services that are culturally conscious and faithful to the students’ traditions.

WP 03032  THE HYMNS AND POEMS OF CHARLES WESLEY  3 hrs.
This is a study of the hymns and poetry of Charles Wesley, through which the relationship between theologia prima and theologia secunda will be explored. John Wesley called the Methodist hymnal “a little body of practical divinity,” meaning that Methodists learned much of their theology through hymns. The focus will be on the hymns surrounding the Christian year, and the hymns pertaining to theological themes. Some of Charles Wesley’s poems will also be considered. (See TH 03032).

WP 02950  HISTORY, THEOLOGY, AND PRACTICE OF THE SACRAMENTS  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see TH 02950 for description.

WP 02654  ETHICAL IMPLICATIONS OF CHRISTIAN LITURGIES  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see ET 02654 for description.

WP 02532†  PREACHING FROM THE PEWS  3 hrs.
This course will explore Christian preaching from the standpoint of the listener. Through a variety of topics and assignments, the course will encourage students to remain “in the pews” as they develop their own homiletical theology and preaching methods. Contemporary studies in sermon listening, communication theory, and classical and modern/postmodern rhetoric will inform the class as we work towards a theological understanding of sermon listening as Christian practice. Students will prepare, deliver, and evaluate sermons guided by close attention to the role of the listener in the sermon. As part of the course, students will interview sermon listeners with a prescribed interview methodology, and will write and deliver one or more sermons that pay close attention to the role of the listener in the sermon. Prerequisite: WP 20000.

WP 02520†  IMAGINATION IN PREACHING  3 hrs.
An examination of imagination and its role in theological reflection and biblical interpretation for preaching to contemporary consciousness. Prerequisite: WP 20000.

WP 02420  THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY CHURCH MUSICIAN  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see TA 02420 for description.

WP 02419  HYMNODY  3 hrs.
An introduction to the study of the hymns and their use in Christian churches. Attention will be given to the characteristics of hymns, texts, tunes, the marriage of text and tunes as well as theological analysis of selected hymns. Contemporary hymnals will be examined as well as music from a number of Christian traditions.

WP 02318†  SERMON WORKSHOP  3 hrs.
A workshop experience of developing, delivering, and analyzing sermons based on texts from the Revised Common Lectionary. Prerequisite: WP 20000.

WP 02114†  PREACHING AND THE GOSPEL READINGS OF THE LECTIO NARY  3 hrs.
Interpreting texts from the Common Lectionary appointed for a selected period in Year A, B, or C, with attention given to their preaching values. Prerequisite: WP 20000.

WP 01923  PREACHING FOR SOCIAL CHANGE  3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course - please see CM 01923 for description.
WP 01913† PREACHING ON CONTEMPORARY SITUATIONS 3 hrs.
Bringing the biblical witness to bear on ethical, social, and political situations in the contemporary world through the sermon. Prerequisite: WP 20000. (See CM 01913).

This is a cross-listed course - please see PC 01755 for description.

WP 01610† FEMINIST/WOMANIST THEOLOGY FOR PREACHING AND WORSHIP 3 hrs.
A study of feminist/womanist theology in relation to the homiletical and liturgical practice of the church. Prerequisites: WP 20000 and TH 10000.

WP 01569 AFRICAN AMERICAN WORSHIP & CONGREGATIONAL LIFE 3 hrs.
This is a cross-listed course (AA 01569/CM 01569)- please see AA 01569 for description.

WP 01408 PREPARING LITURGIES AND RITUALS FOR CHRISTIAN WORSHIP 3 hrs.
A course in designing worship liturgies from various Christian traditions, including services for Sunday worship, special days in the Christian year, celebrations of baptism and Eucharist, and weddings and funerals. Prerequisite: WP 20000.

WP 01307† PREACHING FOR FAITH DEVELOPMENT IN CONGREGATIONS 3 hrs.
By focusing on the listening community as persons who have already responded to the reality of God in faith, this course will explore the relationship of preaching to Christian faith development. Drawing on theology, developmental theory, and homiletic theory, students will analyze congregations and sermons in relation to faith development. Students will be asked to design and deliver their own sermons in class. Prerequisite: WP 20000

WP 01205† PREACHING: THE INDUCTIVE APPROACH 3 hrs.
This course will focus on inductive methods of preaching. Students will develop, write, and deliver sermons that employ story, narrative, plot, and autobiography in the interpretation of biblical texts. Prerequisite: WP 20000.

WP 01104 WORSHIP AND PREACHING PRACTICUM 3 hrs.
A laboratory course in which students will preach sermons, design liturgies, lead worship, practice administering the sacraments, and evaluate each other's performance within a community of peers. Prerequisite: WP 20000.
